Black Muslim Warns Foes Not To Fight

Muhammad Says Malcolm Wrought His Own Undoing

CHICAGO (AP) — Elijah Muhammad, saying the slain Malcolm X "got what he preached," warned any of his would be assassins Friday.

"We will fight you if you fight us," he said.

Muhammad's fiery hour-and-half keynote speech on the opening of the three-day Muslim convention was often drowned out by cries of "yes, yes" and "that's right" from his followers who half-filled the 7,500-seat Coliseum.

INVITING DOOM

The Black Muslim leader, who was protected by unprecedented security measures, cried out that anybody who tried to destroy him was inviting his own doom.

He said the followers of Malcolm X, who was shot down Sunday in New York, "are after me."

"They are coming to kill me," Muhammad said, alluding to widely publicized threats on his life. "Leave us alone," he said, "and we will leave you alone."

"We are not going to stand and keep silent and see hypocrites going around bombing our places," he warned. "If police departments cannot put a stop to it, we can put a stop to it."

Malcolm was expelled from the Black Muslim movement 14 months ago. He formed his Organization of Afro-American Unity. His death was laid to the Black Muslims.

Muhammad again said he did not order Malcolm's death. "He was teaching blood bath," he said of Malcolm. "He wanted to send troops to Mississippi and he had no troops."

"He said go home and get a shotgun, a rifle and a machine gun," Muhammad told the convention. "He got what he preached."

Muhammad's speech was made from a lectern set far back on the platform. He was guarded closely by his karate-trained elite troop, the Fruit of Islam.

Two men, introduced as brothers of Malcolm X, also spoke. They were Philbert, presented as being from Lansing, Muskegon and Flint, Mich., and Wilfred of Detroit.

Books To Close For Rural Fire Protection Vote

Registration books will be closed on March 5 for all precincts outside the city limits for the fire protection election coming up on April 6, according to Mrs. Mae Lucky, registrar of voters for Ouachita Parish.

Mrs. Lucky pointed out that the precincts outside the city limits of Monroe and West Monroe and rural districts were the only ones effected by the election.

The Ouachita Parish Police Jury called the election to decide whether or not to provide rural fire protection. Included on the ballot will be a $175,000 bond issue for the construction of two fire stations and a 10-year 1.72 mills for their operation and maintenance.

Mrs. Lucky said she and her assistant, Mrs. Hazel Seal, are now busy getting the registration books in order. There were 208 changes of addresses last month and she expects as many for this month.

Consumer Costs Go Up Slightly

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Consumer living costs increased one-tenth of one per cent in January, adding a penny to every $10 purchase of goods, the Labor Department announced Friday.

The increase was attributed mainly to increased housing and transportation costs.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics reported that the cost of living index stood at 108.9 at the end of January. This meant $10.89 was required for the same amount of goods and services that could be bought for $10 in the 1957-1959 base period.

Bureau spokesman Arnold Chase said the prospect in February is for another one-tenth of one per cent price rise. He said the index goes up about half the time in January and this year's climb is considered normal.

Indonesia Seizes Rubber Acreage From U.S. Hands

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — The Indonesian government has taken over management of U.S. rubber plantations in Sumatra in what amounts to seizure of the property, reliable sources said today.

The U.S. Embassy declined to comment on the report, and there was no official confirmation.

TWO FIRMS HIT

The informants gave this account:

Minister Frans Seda called in the managers of U.S. Rubber and Goodyear, the two companies operating in North Sumatra, and read them a decree signed by Foreign Minister Subandrio.

The decree said the Indonesian government is taking over at once the management of the rubber plantations in North Sumatra, which are supposed to be worth about $80 million.

Seda said an Indonesian management team would run the plantations but the decree stipulated that "ownership rights of American companies is recognized."

The plantations would be run "under contract of American owners" to be worked out later.

In 1963, British properties were taken over in a similar action and never returned to their owners.

U.S. Ambassador Howard P. Jones was assured only Wednesday that the Indonesian government had no intention of taking over the estates.

That was after workers declared they had seized the plantations in a gesture of solidarity with the people of Viet Nam, and after Subandrio had gone to Medan, in North Sumatra, ostensibly to investigate.

A mob of Indonesians attacked the cars of U.S. Consul Theodore Heavener and the Norwegian Consul at Medan, Wednesday, the U.S. Embassy reported.

Heavener protested and Medan authorities sent a representative to apologize. The government also offered to pay for damage to the car, which was hit by sticks and stones.

The two cars were attacked as they left the Medan airport after attending the arrival of Subandrio.

Cong Action Dips After Bomb Raids

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — A marked lull in Viet Cong activity suggests the massive raids by U. S. Air Force jets are getting results. The Red guerrillas staged fewer incidents Friday than in any other 24 hour period since the jets were unleashed last Thursday.

No major ground engagements were reported.

B57 Martin Canberra bombers pressed the air attack.

In 47 sorties from the flight line at Bien Hoa airbase they showered more than 150 tons of high explosives on suspected Viet Cong hideouts in the jungles by Phuoc Tuy Province, on the South China Sea east of Saigon.

REINFORCEMENTS

However, there was a report that elements of a new Communist division trained and equipped in North Viet Nam have shown up to reinforce the Viet Cong in the 1st army Corps area fronting on the 17th Parallel.

Authoritative military sources at the Da Nang base, 380 miles northeast of Saigon, said the newcomers moved via the Ho Chi Minh trail through eastern Laos, which American warplanes have been raiding for several weeks.

Estimates of their number differed. A division may total 10,000 men, but U.S. officers believed only a fraction of this number was involved in the infiltration.

Intelligence men said the divisional headquarters has been set up in the Communist-held Do Xa area of Quang Ngai Province, about 50 miles south of Da Nang.

Real Treat

The children from the Cerebral Palsy School at Selman Field were given a "real treat" Friday with a visit to the main fire station in Monroe. Each month the children are taken on field trips to an interesting part of the city. They saw demonstrations on the operation of the fire trucks and watched firemen get ready to go out on "call." They were accompanied by teachers, nurses and parents.

New Day

A new Day arrived this week for West Monroe ambulance driver John Day and his wife. John's most memorable trip to the hospital took place Thursday when a new daughter, Karon Annett, was added to the roster of new arrivals at Glenwood Hospital. The Days also have one son. All four Days are reported doing fine.

JACKSON JURIST

Judge Cox No Man To Withhold Words

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — U.S. Dist. Judge Harold Cox, whose rulings in Mississippi racial cases sometimes catch the Justice Department off guard, is a man who speaks his mind.

"Yankee newspapers," he told an interviewer Friday, "seem to take the attitude I'm against the Negro and for the white people. This is not borne out by the record.

"They just don't understand the cases. I believe I've given the Department of Justice every order they requested, although not always in the form they wanted."

Cox, a graying Jackson lawyer appointed to the bench by the late President John F. Kennedy three years ago, dismissed Thursday a felony indictment against 17 persons arrested in connection with the slaying of three civil rights workers last summer.

The judge said in effect the crime of murder was a state offense and outside the jurisdiction of federal courts. Government sources conceded privately the Justice Department was on shaky ground.

Friends call Cox a rugged individualist, completely dedicated to the law. When Cox received his oath, U.S. Dist. Judge Sidney Mize called him a man who wanted no praise, "a student of the law, courageous, honorable and hard-working." He is 64.

Asked how he viewed the job, Cox said:

"I came over here and took an oath. I try to live by it. I am impressed by the weight of an oath. Sometimes people seem to look at an oath as part of the red tape in taking a job. I don't."

He said he belongs to no school of interpretation in law — "There are people who try to make it seem you have preconceived opinions in law. I don't know of any slot or groove that fits me. I've had some cases reversed by the 5th Circuit Court of Appeals, but I couldn't say they could be catalogued."

Washington Not Bothered By Red Talk

President Names Lodge To Study Asian Situation

WASHINGTON (AP) — Administration strategists saw nothing in Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin's speech Friday to alter the Viet Nam war. They went ahead with plans to step up the military campaign.

President Johnson named Republican Henry Cabot Lodge, an advocate of pressing the campaign against the Reds, to study the Vietnamese situation and report back within a few days.

Lodge, the GOP vice-presidential nominee in 1960, was a John F. Kennedy-appointed ambassador at Saigon for nearly a year before returning last June to oppose the presidential candidacy of Barry Goldwater.

FOR MILITARY POWER

Leaving the White House with a Johnson assignment to consult with various federal agencies on their Viet Nam activities, Lodge told newsmen he favors "using military power as a persuasive device."

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara said after further Senate Armed Services Committee testimony that the United States will help South Viet Nam boost its regular armed forces by 100,000. The South Vietnamese army now totals about 215,000.

This means perhaps 800 more U.S. military advisers will be sent to the Southeast Asian republic to agument the approximately 24,000 already there, Pentagon sources said.

The Soviet news agency Tass account of Kosygin's public report to the Russian people on his recent 11-day visit to North Viet Nam, Communist and China and North Korea was quickly scanned by Washington policymakers. The reaction can be summed up this way: The Soviet government chief generally hewed to the line already set forth by Moscow propaganda.

His call for withdrawal of U.S. troops from South Viet Nam to pave the way for a peaceful settlement of the conflict is obviously unacceptable to the United States. His demand for a U.S. troop withdrawal from Korea repeated previous Soviet propaganda, but was not set forth as a specific issue for a Viet Nam negotiation.

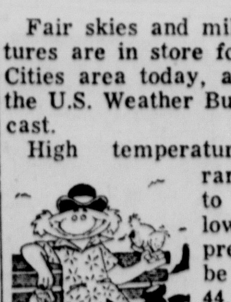
His warning of a spread of the conflict beyond present boundaries unless the United States halts its "aggressive actions" was also familiar propaganda, presumably designed by Moscow to score points with other Communist countries. There has been no evidence of Soviet military movements to back up the words.

Kosygin's report that his brief stopover in Peking was "useful" and helped to "clarify the possibilities of further developing our relations" indicated he accomplished little to heal the Sino-Soviet breach.

To the contrary, there is evidence that the Moscow-Peking split could become sharper. The Chinese attacked Soviet dogma again Friday and apparently will boycott a Communist party meeting scheduled by the Russians to begin in Moscow on Monday. Washington diplomats hear the Chinese may sponsor a rival Communist party meeting of their own next week.

Mild Weather Seen For Area

Fair skies and mild temperatures are in store for the Twin Cities area today, according to the U.S. Weather Bureau's forecast.



FAIR

High temperatures should range from 66 to 70 with lows tonight predicted to be from 38 to 44.

Friday's high of 67 was recorded by FAA at Selman Field at 3 p.m., in contrast to a 3 a.m. low of 29.

Winds today will be from the south and southwest at five to 15 miles per hour.

The outlook for Sunday is continued fair and mild with no rainfall indicated.

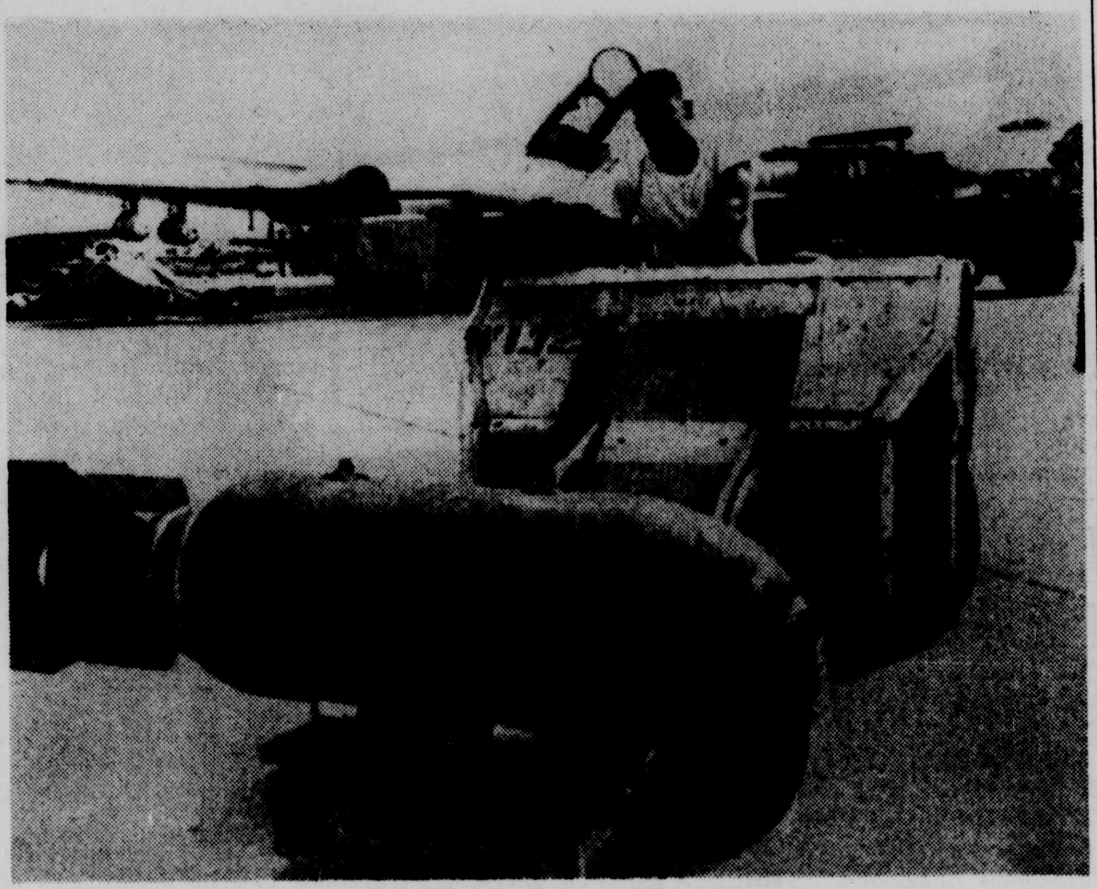
House Set To Probe Guard-Reserve Plan



A 1,000-POUND bomb, the biggest bomb used so far in the Viet Nam war, is moved by a U.S. airman to a U.S. Air Force B57 jet bomber at Saigon airbase. The American bombers use this type bomb frequently for combat missions against the Communist Viet Cong. (AP Wirephoto via radio from Saigon)

Hebert Holds New Powers To Subpoena

WASHINGTON (AP) — A congressional subcommittee was granted subpoena power Friday night and ordered to launch a comprehensive investigation into Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara's plan to merge Army Reserve units into the National Guard.

Rep. L. Mendel Rivers, D-S.C., the new chairman of the House Armed Services Committee, directed Rep. F. Edward Hebert, D-La., one of Capitol Hill's sharpest critics of McNamara, to begin the inquiry "as soon as possible."

This is believed to be the first time that a legislative subcommittee of the Armed Services Committee has been granted subpoena power.

COULD BE SHOWDOWN

Some members of Congress believe the investigation will develop into a showdown on the more fundamental dispute over Pentagon and congressional authority in defense policy.

Rivers stressed this issue in a speech to the Reserve Officers Association at about the same time the plans for the investigation were being made public. Rivers received the association's "Minute Man of the Year" award.

Rivers scored those who he said find Congress too ponderous to meet modern problems. He stressed Congress' constitutional authority to provide for the national defense, and told the Reserve officers:

"You and others will have your day in court."

This was undoubtedly good news to the reservists who, facing a sharp cutback of their units, have been looking to the new Armed Services Committee chairman to declare his position.

Rivers, however, said it would be improper for him to comment directly on the merger plan because of Hebert's pending hearings.

The many questions that have been raised by Congress members and others about McNamara's proposal, he said, "must await the hearings. And hearings there will be."

"The imponderables raised by the decision of the secretary of defense to change the status of a segment of our Reserves are manifold," Rivers said in his prepared speech. "We will explore these and the long-range effect on our security."

In a letter to Hebert, chairman of the subcommittee on Reserve and National Guard Affairs, Rivers outlined the scope of the investigation. And he authorized Hebert to demand "by subpoena or otherwise the attendance and testimony of such witnesses and the production of such books, records, correspondence, memoranda, papers and documents you deem necessary."

Hebert said the hearings would begin as soon as the full committee's current closed hearings on defense posture are completed.

In testimony at these hearings McNamara was reported to have said that Congress would have final authority on the proposed merger.

But some Congress members questioned whether McNamara meant he would have congressional authority merely if the House approved the appropriation covering the proposal.

Hebert and some others contend that is not enough — that the plan must be acted on by the Armed Services Committee.

Bastrop Girl Dies; Victim Of Meningitis

BASTROP (Special) — An autopsy report Friday revealed that Sherlyn Gale Musgrove, 11, of Bastrop, who died Thursday, was the victim of meningococcal meningitis, the child's attending physician said.

He also said steps are being taken to guard against the spread of meningitis to persons who came into direct contact with the youngster.

DRUGGISTS TO AID

Dr. F. B. Ogden said Friday all Bastrop druggists have been informed of the proper preventive medicines to administer and how to give it. Everyone who had contact with Sherlyn is being advised to go to a druggist for the prescribed medicines.

The girl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Musgrove, died around 3:15 p.m. Thursday afternoon in Garnier Clinic where she was taken after "collapsing" that morning, according to her mother.

Sherlyn attended school until noon Wednesday, but came home complaining of fever, aching and nausea.

Dr. Ogden said the form of meningitis she contracted is a germ ailment and can result from lowered resistance due to severe colds and influenza. She was said to have been stricken last week by a bad cold.

The autopsy was performed Friday morning, the physician said.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. today in the chapel of Blackwell - Golden Funeral Home, with the Revs. David Turner and J. L. Smith officiating. Interment will follow in Concord Cemetery on the Hamburg Road north of Bastrop.

Survivors, besides the parents, include six brothers, J. M. Musgrove Jr., Phillip, Madison, Terry, Juan and Douglas Musgrove, all of Bastrop; five sisters, Mrs. Theda Hudson, Archibald, Mrs. Caroletta Ogima, Norco, Mrs. Steve Ogima and Mrs. Genova Rushing, both of New Orleans, and Phyllis Musgrove, Bastrop.

Pallbearers will be Julian Musgrove, Charles Musgrove, William Musgrove, Ed Cain, George Musgrove Jr. and Paul Pettis.

Three Caught In Bookie Run

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Three persons were arrested in the New Orleans area Friday in a nationwide series of raids against gamblers and bookmakers who have not bought a $50 wagering stamp.

Internal Revenue Service agents joined with Jefferson Parish sheriff's deputies and New Orleans police in making the raids.

EIGHT MISSING

Huge Jets Collide During Refueling

PEASE AIR FORCE BASE, N. H. (AP) — Two huge Air Force jet planes collided over the Atlantic Ocean during a refueling operation Friday and plunged into the sea.

The eight men aboard the planes were listed as missing.

The crash occurred as a B47 from the 351st Bomb Squadron of the 100th Bomb Wing at Pease Air Force Base was being refueled by a KC135 tanker from Dow Air Force Base, Bangor Maine.

Extensive rescue operations were begun shortly after word of the crash was received. Two KC135 tankers from the 301st Air Refueling Squadron, Lockbourne AFB, Ohio, circled above the spot until they were joined by other aircraft from Bermuda and Labrador.

VESSELS SEARCH

Surface vessels, including the Gen. Alex M. Patch of the Military Air Transport service, were diverted to the area.

The surface craft were to patrol through the night until air craft resume the search at daybreak.

The search was being directed by the Coast Guard with on-the-scene operations being guided from a C130 plane from Argentia Naval Air Station, Newfoundland.

Despite the extensive search, no wreckage or survivors had been sighted by nightfall.

The crash occurred some 220 miles south of Cape Race, Newfoundland, about 1,000 miles east of the tanker's base in Maine.

Seas were calm in the area and 8th Air Force officials said visibility was 10 miles with a ceiling of 1,100 feet.

Reds Step Up Anti-Jew Drive

BERLIN (AP) — A marked rise in anti-Jewish propaganda has been noted in Communist East Germany since President Waler Ulbricht began his official state visit in the United Arab Republic, a spokesman for West Berlin's Jewish community said Friday.

Latent anti-Semitism is threatening to boil over, the spokesman said in an interview. He declined to be identified by name because he said it might jeopardize his ability to collect information behind the wall.

Until Ulbricht went to Cairo, he asserted, East German publicists differentiated between Jews in general and Israel in particular when firing propaganda blasts at that Middle East country.

TOUR WHITE HOUSE

Louisiana Beauties Don't See President

WASHINGTON (AP) — Louisiana beauty queens here to participate in a gala Mardi Gras ball tonight toured the White House Friday but didn't get to meet President Johnson.

The 31 queens, plus 8 maids of honor and various other Louisianians here for the ball paid an early morning visit to the White House and were given an extended trip through the house and grounds.

Rep. Joe D. Waggoner Jr., D-La., chairman for the ball, said affairs of state, presumably the Viet Nam situation, prevented President Johnson from having a chat with the group.

After the White House tour, the group was taken by bus to Arlington Cemetery, the Washington Monument and other points of interest.

At noon they were luncheon guests of the Louisiana congressional delegation in the Senate caucus room.

The queens and maids will be a part of a Mardi Gras court tonight in the Sheraton Park Hotel.

King and queen for the ball this year are Edward H. Jackson and Miss Elise Wheless, both of Shreveport. Jackson is president of a Shreveport realty company; Miss Wheless, a junior at the University of Oklahoma.

Jackson was host last night at the annual king's reception. Later in the evening he and the queen attended a dinner at the Shoreham Hotel.

This year's ball is dedicated to the Louisiana banking industry.

Waggoner said more than 1,800 guests are expected for the party. Among the guests will be Louisiana Gov. John McKeithen and Miss Lucy Baines Johnson, daughter of President and Mrs. Johnson.

Many other well-known figures in the legislative, executive, military and diplomatic worlds will attend.

As part of the Mardi Gras court and pageant will be a 125-member masked and costumed krewe, headed by Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La.

17 White Men Must Answer Light Counts

MERIDIAN, Miss. (AP) — A federal judge ruled Friday, 17 white men must stand trial on misdemeanor charges in connection with the slaying of three civil rights workers last summer.

Judge Harold Cox set no date for the trial in rejecting defense motions to dismiss the misdemeanor indictment—as he did a more serious felony indictment Thursday.

In Washington, a Justice Department said the way has been paved for a full-fledged trial of the 17 men—a trial in which all of the evidence that would have been used in a felony trial can be brought to light.

The 17 were arrested last month following a massive FBI investigation into the murder of Michael Schwerner and Andrew Goodman, white New Yorkers, and James Chaney, Meridian Negro.

Their bodies were found beneath an earthen dam Aug. 4.

The four-count misdemeanor indictment accuses the 17 with conspiring to violate the slain trio's civil rights. It carries a maximum penalty upon conviction of one year in jail and a $1,000 fine.

The more serious felony indictment accused the 17 defendants with conspiring to use violence to deprive the three civil rights workers of their lives. The judge held that no federal law was embraced by this indictment and that his court lacked jurisdiction.

The slayings were "a heinous crime" and those responsible should be brought to trial for murder in a state court, the judge said. A Neshoba County grand jury has considered the case twice, but has taken no action on grounds it lacked access to FBI evidence.

A Justice Department spokesman said the department would have liked to prosecute the 17 men on the felony charge, but knew it was on controversial legal grounds in trying to apply the local conspiracy to federal civil rights statutes.

The department has not yet decided whether to appeal Cox's ruling on the felony charges.

In Friday's order, Cox dismissed one of the misdemeanor counts as it applied to 14 of the defendants. He said only Neshoba County Sheriff Lawrence Rainey, Deputy Cecil Price and Philadelphia policeman Richard Willis could be tried for using their powers as law enforcement officers to violate the trio's civil rights.

Only law enforcement officers may properly be charged with actually violating the trio's rights under color of law, the judge said.

Bank Cave-Ins Of Little River Cause Problem

JONESVILLE (Special) — Cave-ins of the river bank of Little River in Jonesville has created what some term a "dangerous situation" and threatens the loss of nearly two blocks of one street paralleling the river bank. The street also serves as a part of the ring levee of the town.

S. E. "Tige" Smith, engineer of the Louisiana Department of Public Works, Fred Petty, president of the Tensas Basin Levee Board, along with Wedon T. Smith, levee board member of Catahoula, made an inspection and survey of the situation Tuesday.

The U. S. Army Corps of Engineers were also called in on the matter. Col. Betts, Engineer of the Vicksburg District of the Corps, made an on-the spot inspection of the cave-ins Wednesday while in Jonesville on an inspection trip of the Ouachita River project.

Surveys are now being studied by the three agencies as to the best method of stopping the cave-ins. The situation has occured at the foot of Mount Street where it abutts the river.

The town has erected a sign at the foot of the street which directs traffic to proceed at its own risk. Heavy traffic, especially, is advised to stay off the roadway bordering the river.

Recent heavy rains have caused most of the latest cave-ins. A large hunk of the bank gave way Wednesday night leaving a hole not may feet from the roadway.

The last block of Mount Street is a one-way street to the river. It is the street which gives access to the post office, the Catahoula Hospital, and the library along with several other businesses.

Committee Passes More School Help

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Education Committee gave quick approval to three more sections of the administration's school bill Friday, but left the toughest part for last.

Committee chairman Adam Clayton Powell, D-N.Y., has scheduled a meeting for Saturday in hope of completing action on the $1.25-billion program, a key proposal of President Johnson's legislative program.

Still unsettled is the heart of the bill, a plan to spend $1 billion to improve the education of children from low-income families.

The sections approved Friday would:

—Authorize $100 million for establishing supplementary education centers to provide services not available under regular school programs for both public and private school children.

—Authorize $45 million for the training of research personnel to work on new education techniques and the construction of regional educational research centers.

—Authorize $25 million for grants to state departments of education to help them with long-range educational planning.

Thursday, the committee approved a proposal to make $100 million available for the purchase of textbooks and library books to be used by children in both public and private elementary and secondary schools.

The textbook provision and the one dealing with supplementary education centers are both designed to channel aid to parochial school students. Their approval in committee without any real opposition indicated a quieting of the church-state controversy that has held up school aid legislation for years.

The big problem still facing the committee is approval of a formula to distribute the $1 billion authorized for "the children of poverty," as Johnson has called them.

The administration has proposed granting school districts 50 per cent of their average per-pupil cost for each child from a family with an income of under $2,000.

Republican critics have pointed out this would give much more money to wealthy districts, with a higher per-pupil cost, than to the poorer school districts that need the money the most.

The administration is holding out for approval of the formula, however, arguing that differences in the cost of living make a dollar go much farther in paying teachers' salaries or building school rooms in the poorer areas.

When the committee meets Saturday it will have before it a proposal by Rep. John H. Dent, D-Pa., to use a formula that takes into consideration the number of children from families on relief as well as those from families with incomes from $2,000.

In presenting it, Dent said 227,000 children from families on relief — mostly in big cities — would not be covered by the administration formula because their relief payments total more than $2,000.

UP PRICES

NEW YORK (UPI)—American Can Co. Friday announced price increases of five per cent on bakery cartons, trays and boards manufactured by its Marathon unit. Foil laminated products were excluded from the increase.

The company said the boost reflected higher freight rates, materials and warehousing costs, and wages.

Muslim Held In Negro's Death

NEW YORK (AP) — The first direct police linkup of the Black Muslims to the assassination of Malcolm X came Friday, with the arrest of a husky Negro enforcer for the militant antiwhite sect. Held without bail on a homicide charge, he was the second man accused in the slaying.

Since the 39-year-old Malcolm was shot down at a black supremacy rally last Sunday, police have worked on the theory that his bitter 1963 break with Elijah Muhammad's Chicago-based Black Muslims lay behind the slaying. Muhammad has denied any complicity by his group.

Thirty-five hours after the assassination, the Black Muslim's Harlem Mosque No. 7 was wrecked by an explosion and fire, in apparent revenge for Malcolm's killing.

However, it was not until early Friday that police charged a direct role in the assassination to a known Muslim. They arrested Norman 3X Butler, 26, a practitioner of the deadly art of karate. He reportedly is a member of Muhammad's elite guard of disciplinary enforcers.

Free in bond, Norman 3X was accused last month of taking a shot at another defector from the Black Muslim ranks. The victim escaped with his life, however.

Norman 3X was charged with "acting in concert" in Malcolm's slaying with Talmadge Hayer, 22, who was arrested immediately after the assassination and also accused of homicide. Shot by a Malcolm bodyguard, Hayer since has been held in Bellevue Hospital. He has refused to say whether he is a Black Muslim.

In all, police believe five men took part in the assassination plot, two as decoys and three as actual triggermen.

Drivers Fined In West Monroe Court Session

Five persons appeared before Judge John McCormick Friday in West Monroe City Court on charges of operating a motor vehicle while under the influences of intoxicating beverages.

Fines totaled $600 for Floyd Earl Armstrong, 302½ Gatley, West Monroe, who was found guilty of the DWI charge, $400, plus a fine of $200 for driving without proper driver's license.

Dewey Lee Fletcher, 802 North 7th, West Monroe, was fined on five separate counts, including DWI, $300; speeding, $25; resisting arrest, $25; revoked driver's license, $25; and disturbing the peace, $25.

Two persons were sentenced to fines of $300 for DWI plus a $25 fine for reckless driving. They were Jack F. Tood Jr., 105-B College Ave., Monroe, and Jimmy E. Blythe, of Irvin, Texas.

Edward Joseph Murphy, Rt. 1, Eros, La., was fined $300 on DWI charges and $50 on charges of having improper driver's license.

Richard E. Leak, Gulpha St., West Monroe, was fined $200 for carrying a concealed weapon and $30 for being disorderly A similar charge of carrying a concealed weapon brought a $25 fine for Charles Selby, of Box 43, Pineville.

Louis Champion, 507 Phillips St., West Monroe, was sentenced to fines totaling $700 or 240 days in jail. He appeared on three charges: aggravated assault, $300 or 90 days; disturbing the peace, $100 or 60 days; and aggravated battery, $300 or 90 days. Wayne D. Fontenot, 1517 Willis St., West Monroe, was given a sentence of $500 fine or six months in jail on charges of aggravated battery.

Four persons were fined on speeding charges. They included Virginia Ervin, 315 Lee, West Monroe, $20; Walter Smith, of Oak Grove, $10; Robert D. Hollis, Rt. 1, Box 1187, West Monroe, $15; and Curtis M. Ruffin, Rt. 5, Box 249, West Monroe, $10.

Reckless driving charges resulted in fines for the following persons: Artis L. Carter, Rt. 1, Box 236, Calhoun, $20; Robert L. Wilson, 305 Tennessee, Monroe, $5; Charles E. Williams, of Dodson, La., $300; and four persons from West Monroe: James W. Hamilton Jr., 116 Crescent Drive, $25; Slaton E. Rich, 2707 North 7th, $20; James E. Brown, 205 South 9th, $20, and Thelma B. Harris Rt. 5, Box 35, $15.

A total of 10 minor violations appeared on the court docket, including four for running red lights, three for disturbing the peace, and one each for having no driver's license, improper muffler, and running stop signs.

ULBRICHT VISITS

Nasser Clarifies Stand On Reds

CAIRO (AP) — President amal Abdel Nasser m aGte Gamal Abdel Nasser made it clear Friday the visit of East German President Walter Ulbricht did not mean he would tolerate any upsurge of communism here.

The West German Embassy injected an air of mystery into the atmosphere surrounding Ulbricht's tour: It announced six West Germans had disappeared Tuesday — the day of Ulbricht's arrival.

One of the missing men was Franz W. Kiesow, representative here of the Mannesmann steel concern, one of West Germany's largest. Also missing were his wife, her mother and father and a Mr. and Mrs. Lotz.

The embassy said Egyptian authorities were investigating and it had no confirmation of unofficial reports the six had been arrested. There was no word of any direct link between the disappearance and Ulbricht's visit.

Ulbricht praised Egypt's ancient glory and modern "Socialist achievements" in visits to the 3,400-year-old temples of Luxor and the giant new Aswan Dam the Soviet Union is building on the Nile.

But in Cairo the government-controlled press carried a clear sharp warning from Nasser to Egyptian Communists not to take political advantage of Ulbricht's visit.

"We differ on many points with communism and the differences with it are radical," he was quoted as telling the parliamentary committee of the Arab Socialist Union, political arm of his one-party government.

"We believe in religion and we reject the dictatorship of any class," he said. "If Communists try to form Communist organizations here or preach atheism, the state will not accept this and will not stand idly by."

The timing of Nasser's remarks, at the height of Ulbricht's visit to Egypt, was considered highly significant. He appeared to be reassuring anti-Communist elements in Egypt that he was not being carried away by his controversial Communist visitor.

He was also obviously warning local Communists that his basic opposition to their internal activities remained unchanged.

Silver Waters Patrol Leaders At Workshop

Two members of the Silver Waters Girl Scout Council of Monroe are attending the Patrol Leaders' Workshop at Memphis, Tenn. at the Peabody Hotel this weekend.

They are Marianne Salisbury, Roundup patrol leader, and Kyle Gregory, assistant patrol leader. Miss Salisbury is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Salisbury, and Miss Gregory is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. A. B. Gregory Jr.

The workshop began Friday and will run through Sunday. The purpose of the workshop is to aid patrol leaders and assistant patrol leaders in understanding their total job and in getting a larger outlook on Roundup.

Scheduled for July 17-26, the 1965 Roundup will be held at Farragut, Idaho, on the shores of Lake Pend Oreille. Approximately 11,000 girls and adults from all over the United States and 40 countries are expected to attend.

Other senior scouts who will attend Roundup in addition to Miss Salisbury and Miss Gregory from the Silver Waters Council are Kaki Stone, Barbara Kurtz, Gay Gannaway and Janet Brown, all of Monroe; Becky Mann of West Monroe and Johnette Edwards of Farmerville.

Adults who will attend the Roundup with the girls include Mrs. Norman Huckabee and Miss Mickie Varnado of Monroe and Mrs. Cortlandt McCoy of West Monroe.

Research Center Seeking Site

BATON ROUGE (AP) — The Louisiana Science Foundation authorized the Gulf South Reseach Institute Friday to survey a dozen proposed sites for a research center.

The foundation voted to allow Gulf South officials to receive all offers, set criteria for the site, and make recommendations for foundation consideration later.

The action gave a first formal tie between the foundation and the institute. The foundation Keithen under new laws to pro- was named by Gov. John Mc- mote economic and industrial growth. The institute is a private group which will concern itself with research needed to reach these goals.

F. Hugh Coughlin, Alexandria, president and board chairman of the institute, had asked the foundation for something in writing to assure recognition of the institute, so it could go about its tasks of organizing and getting the research program started.

The 11-member foundation elected Theo Cangelosi, Baton Rouge, as chairman. Cangelosi is a member of the Louisiana State University Board of Supervisors and a close associate of Gov. McKeithen.

James C. Gardner, Shreveport, a former mayor, was named vice chairman; James Domengeaux, Lafayette, a former congressman, secretary; and Willard Robertson, New Orleans, who helped finance Gov. McKeithen's race for governor, treasurer.

Other members of the foundation are Dr. Vernon Galliano, Thibodaux; Paul S. Ransom Jr., Monroe; Lee Welch, Lake Charles; Dr. E. E. Puls, Hammond; A. P. Stoddard, New Orleans; Q. T. Hartner, Urania, and T. B. McKnight, Baton Rouge.

Carlos Spaht, executive counsel to the governor, sat in as temporary chairman until Cangelosi's election. The governor was en route to Washington for a Mardi Gras ball.

Spaht and Cangelosi hailed the foundation and its research project as possibly "the outstanding achievement of this administration."

Spaht told the foundation its relationship to the institute was that of landlord to tenant. Coughlin said the role of the foundation was that of banker, with the institute as borrower.

Coughlin proposed that the institute consult with experts and recommend to the foundation what it considers the three best sites, and that from these the foundation select one.

USW Calls For Contract Talks To Start Again

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The United Steelworkers Union demanded Friday a resumption of basic steel contract talks.

David J. McDonald, president of the union, sent a message to R. Conrad Cooper, chief company negotiator, insisting that negotiations be resumed around March 8.

The talks were suspended Jan. 7 because of the hotly disputed union election for president.

McDonald was opposed for reelection by union Secretary-Treasurer I.W. Abel in an election Feb. 9. The outcome is still in doubt.

"We insist upon resumption of collective bargaining conferences with the 11 basic steel companies on the exact format which was suspended on Jan. 7, 1965. We are prepared to meet with the companies on or about March 8, 1965, in Pittsburgh and do our best to negotiate new labor agreements. Please advise me," the McDonald message said.

Court's Press Ruling

In a ruling by a federal district judge, Tennessee's Senate was permanently enjoined from barring news reporters from the Senate floor. United States District Judge William E. Miller, in a hearing in Nashville, Tenn., called a move by Tennessee's Senate "a dangerous step toward press control and censorship."

In a move which was obviously unconstitutional and virtually certain to bring a court test, the Senate adopted a resolution banning the Nashville Tennessean's reporters from the floor after reporter Bill Kovach refused to leave a closed committee meeting February 3.

The question of whether Kovach should have been permitted to remain in the committee meeting was not at issue. If a committee has a right to hold closed meetings, from which reporters are barred, it would have been a simple matter to have Kovach evicted. In such a case, it would be presumed that freedom of the press was not being interfered with, since a committee is never authorized to enact a law and before any action taken by a committee can become law it must be acted on by the entire Senate, as well as the House.

An official action to keep the public from being informed is a violation of the Constitution of the United States if it involves action by a public body. Presumably, it is not a violation if no official government action is taken, but various public bodies often use so-called executive sessions as a means of preventing the public from hearing any discussion of the matter under consideration.

The Tennessee Senate action, of course, was little short of childish. Merely because it was provoked at the refusal of a reporter to leave a committee meeting, it took an action which was clearly unconstitutional and an open attempt to abridge the freedom of the press.

Amon Carter Evans, publisher of the Tennessean, called the decision a "legal victory . . . against unreasonable secrecy in government" and said it showed "no official or agency of government can cripple the press in its responsibility to inform the public about public affairs."

Conceding the committee's right to hold executive, or closed, meetings, Judge Miller said it had other means of punishing the reporter for "disrupting the orderly proceedings of the committee."

In banning Tennessean newsmen from the floor for the remainder of the session, the Senate said the ban would be lifted if Evans promised in writing that the reporters would abide by the rules.

This, of course, was a gross attempt of the Senate to decide which reporters should and which should not attend meetings of the Senate. If it had been allowed to assume that power, it would have been a simple matter for the Senate to dominate the press merely by saying that any reporter who wrote anything critical of the Senate would be expelled and permanently banned.

In announcing his decision, Judge Miller commented further:

"It is too late in the date to doubt that the liberties of religion and expression may be infringed by the denial of or placing conditions on a benefit or privilege."

Miller said that while the newspaper had no right to carry its opposition to closed sessions "to the extent of refusing to leave a committee," the Senate could have had the sergeant-at-arms eject the reporter or could have cited him for contempt.

He said the decision was imposed "for one reason only: As a punishment for one newspaper for what the Senate considered to be contemptuous conduct before one of its committees."

Evans said the Senate's resolution cut off the newspaper's source of news and held out a threat "that a surrender of freedom of expression may be required as the price for regaining access."

It boils down to the fact that an individual may be expelled or punished for violation of certain rules but that no official government agency can make rules which deprive people of the right they have, through the freedom of the press, to know what is being done.

Some Good In WPA

"It's an ill wind that blows nobody good," and now the United States government has discovered a fortune in art treasures, which were, in a manner of speaking, "just lying around the house."

During the depression years in which Franklin D. Roosevelt created many government agencies which were known by their initials (without periods), two of the best-known sets of such initials were the PWA and the WPA. Except for a transposition of the last two letters, they sounded about alike. The first stood for Public Works Administration and the latter for Works Progress Administration. Under the first, considerable construction work was carried on, but the latter amounted mostly to a sort of odd-jobs dole for those who were unemployed and had no way of making a living.

Jobs in the WPA were many and varied. They ranged all the way from raking leaves to writing historical books for libraries and to art works in painting and sculpture.

Now, according to a news report, a considerable collection of paintings, sculptures and murals done by government - commissioned artists during the depression are being sought at high prices all over the country.

When the struggling artists were given commissions to decorate public buildings in the 1930s, no one was greatly interested in what they did. It meant little to the people and the government thought that was as good a way as any to dole out money to keep people from starving.

These examples of American creativity in the depression years now demand big sums because of their historial representation and because many of the artists, then unappreciated, are now famous.

One large collection of such paintings, which hung neglected and virtually unnoticed in the department of labor, will be the first to be restored by the Smithsonian Institution's National Collection of Fine Arts. The collection will be housed in the old post office building in Washington.

Included are works by such artists as Morris Graves, Jerome Myers, Ivan Albright, Philip Guston, Lee Gatch and Jared French. It is difficult to identify some of the pictures with the artists who created them because their styles have changed so radically over the last 30 years.

Although the WPA was considerably maligned as an agency which employed people to kill time, it had the advantage of requiring some work for the money received, instead of passing out straight doles to keep the unemployed from starving.

Some of those thus employed worked earnestly and appreciatively, being glad of an opportunity to contribute their best for what they received. It was from people of this sort that some permanent good came from the WPA. It is always from those who strive to give value in return that good comes.

President Woodrow Wilson and telephone inventor Alexander Graham Bell took part in the first transcontinental telephone call on Jan. 25, 1915.

Executive Streamline Seen

Would Overhaul That Branch

THERE IS A general belief in Washington that at some time during the Johnson Administration there will be a far-reaching overhauling and streamlining of the executive branch of the Government.

There have been some reports that the President wanted Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, or a Commission headed by McNamara, to do the job. With the situation in Vietnam as it is McNamara would be reluctant to leave his present post and the President would not want him to.

The President three weeks ago asked Congress to renew his authority to submit Government re-organization plans. Congress first gave that sort of authority to President Hoover in the Reorganization Act of 1932.

It has been renewed from time to time, and usually on a two year basis. President Johnson in his letters to Vice President Humphrey and Speaker McCormack asked for permanent authority.

A bill giving the Administration this authority on a permanent basis has been introduced by Senator Abraham Ribicoff, Democrat, Connecticut. Senator John L. McClellan, Democrat, Arkansas, chairman of the Committee on Government Operations, however, has introduced a bill limiting the life of the extension for two years from June 1, when the present authority expires.

SENATOR McCLELLAN has long been the leader of the Senate group which has successfully insisted that Congress should not surrender its authority over re-organization of Executive Departments or independent regulatory agencies.

There was a long battle over this question in 1949 when President Truman asked for permanent authority and presented a draft bill intended to accomplish that purpose. Congress, however, granted the authority for four years.

It was argued at the time that it would be better in the future to limit the President's authority to periods of two years, giving each succeeding Congress an opportunity to determine whether the basic authority should be further extended or restricted to meet circumstances at the time.

The initial 4-year authority was given on the grounds that 2 years would be an insufficient time for the President to prepare reorganization plans for submission to Congress fully implementing the recommendations of the first Hoover Commission.

Since 1949 there have been 50 re-organization plans presented by Presidents and which Congress permitted to become effective. Congress has rejected seven plans presented by Presidents.

THE OUTLOOK IS that the present Congress will grant President Johnson's request for permanent authority, or at least for four years, which would extend beyond the term to which he was elected in November.

President Johnson in his message asking Congress for permanent authority to submit reorganization plans said that the purpose was to keep the Federal Government "lean and fit."

Some members of Congress think that it is probable President Johnson's first re-organization moves will be on a modest scale, perhaps such as providing a single head for the Atomic Energy Commission instead of the present 5-man board.

But the feeling is general that during his present term in recommended direct legislation or through Congressional approval of re-organization plans, President Johnson will give more attention to re-shaping the executive departments and regulatory agencies than any of his predecessors.

There have been plans floating around for years for the creation of new Cabinet - rank departments. Senator Ribicoff has introduced a bill for a Department of Education, cutting it off from the Department of Health, Education and Welfare. HEW Secretary Anthony Celebrezze would like to keep the big agency together, but with some internal re-organization.

The President has let it be known he wants a Department of Housing and Urban Affairs. There has been some sentiment for a Department of Transportation for years. A recent suggestion is that the Departments of Interior and Agriculture be combined into a Department of Natural Resources.

There have been few Cabinet Departments created in this century. In 1903 President Theodore Roosevelt brought about the creation of the Department of Commerce and Labor, which was divided into two Departments — Commerce and Labor — at the beginning of the Wilson Administration.

The Department of Defense replaced the Departments of War and Navy as a Cabinet-rank Department in 1947.

The baby of the Departments is Health, Education and Welfare, which was created at the request of President Eisenhower in 1953.

DR. PETER J. STEINCROHN

Another Medical Opinion Is Wise

MRS. J.: IN the last analysis, a consultation is primarily for the benefit of the patient and his family. The doctor's feelings in the matter take second place to the welfare of his patient. Therefore, I don't understand your hesitation in asking your doctor for a consultant to come in and see your husband.

You say you are afraid you'll hurt his feelings? Then by all means make the test. Any physician who refuses consultation (because he thinks he knows it all, or because he feels insulted in your lack of confidence) is suspect. It's all the more reason why you need a consultation.

I think most physicians, who deserve the name, are willing to make it easy for the patient and his family to have another medical opinion. They know that with few exceptions, it isn't because of lack of confidence, but because the anxious family members want to be sure they've done everything possible.

Pick up the phone, tell your doctor you'd like a consultation (not as a command but as a request) and it's dollars to doughnuts he'll sweetly concur.

MR. L.: IT'S true that there are ulcer-givers as well as ulcer-getters. Nevertheless, it's easy for the ulcer patient to go blaming someone else for his ulcer. Your boss may be the devil you say he is, but how about yourself? Are you making any contributions to eating up the lining of your stomach?

The important thing is to develop some kind of practical philosophy which enables us to cope with disagreeable persons — whether at work or in our social life.

Otherwise you'll find, if it isn't your boss who's giving you the pains, it will be someone else. Ulcer patients will be better off if they stop blaming the ulcer-givers and take an impartial estimate of themselves. I know I'm being blunt, but as the father said when he took his boy out to the woodshed, "I'm whipping you for your own good."

MRS. J.: I'M all for the consideration of "dermabrasion" (planing of the skin) for deep scars by acne if you engage an expert dermatologist or plastic surgeon. Making the decision to do the job is as important as the ability to do it.

Mr. O.: Yes, I think most husbands are unappreciative of their wives' attempts to keep them healthy and alive. All that many wives get for their interest is the name "nagger."

Mrs. H.: A person can live without a spleen. This organ is often the seat of trouble with the blood cells. Splenectomy (its removal by operation) is often a life-saving measure.

Dr. Steincrohn's leaflet, "Allergy — Disguised Attacker," will be mailed to you on receipt of a stamped, self-addressed envelope and 15 cents in coin for handling. Address your request to Dr. Steincrohn, in care of this newspaper.

Dr. Steincrohn is sorry he cannot answer readers' letters. Nevertheless, most questions are answered in later columns.

Today is Saturday, Feb. 27, the 58th day of 1965 with 307 to follow.

The moon is approaching its new phase.

The morning star is Mars. The evening stars are Mars and Jupiter.

Contralto Marian Anderson was born on this day in 1903.

On this day in history:

In 1860, Abraham Lincoln made his first speech in the east, discussing slavery at Cooper Union College in New York City.

In 1939, the U.S. Supreme Court outlawed "sit-down" strikes.

In 1942, the battle of the Java Sea began. It was won by the Japanese, who sank 13 warships compared to a loss of two in their navy.

A thought for the day-Abraham Lincoln said: "While the people retain their virtue and vigilance, no administration, by any extreme of wickedness or folly, can very seriously injure the government in the short space of four years."

RALPH DE TOLEDANO

Income Tax And Spending In U.S.

Like all Americans — both rich and poor — I have begun the heart-rending task of making out my income tax. I write this with tears in my eyes because I know the taxpayer can't win. Way back when, Rollin Kirby, cartoonist for the long - departed New York World, always depicted the American taxpayer as the man dressed in a barrel. And in those years, the Federal bite on income was far smaller than it is today.

From the vantage point of my own individual barrel — as I plot along minus coat, trousers, or shoes — I have been giving some thought to what happens to the money which you and I hand out to the Treasury. In this doleful exercise, I am aided by a book of sorrow called "Facts and Figures on Government Finance," which Prentice - Hall issues every year. The information in it comes from the Tax Foundation, Inc., a spoil-sport organization which tries to keep its eye on the Yankee dollar as it moves from the taxpayer to the Treasury to Lord knows where.

This is a harder job than you would think. Even in this age of supersonic speed nothing moves as fast and as elusively as the long green amassed by your labor and mine. Even if its progress down the rat hole were slower, most of us would miss it because we keep being diverted from the purpose at hand by the fancy talk of those fairy-tale writers, the Council of Economic Advisers — the men who presumably know what goes on in the great realm of economics.

Take, for example, the Federal budget. When it is published each year the average Joe — and let's both take a bow here — reads that it will be so many billions of dollars. This year there were great huzzahs because President Johnson had kept the budget below $100 billion. In 1963, the last year for which we have full figures, we were also told that the budget had remained below the same figure. The fact is that the Treasury spent $118.8 billion, which to me is a fat difference. In the same year, the government took in $114.6 billion. I wish I could handle my own budget that way, but to date I haven't found a landlord or a supermarket to go along with these advanced ideas in deficit spending.

Nowadays, however, many people are convinced that what the government spends or how big the deficit grows is really not important. But what about Social Security? What the government takes from you is supposed to go into a fund and what the government pays out is supposed to come from that fund alone. The insurance companies make money and Social Security is supposed to be actuarially sound.

But what happened in 1963—and will happen even more dramatically as the years go by — is that the Federal old age and other insurance programs took in $16.4 billion and paid out $18.3 billion. Which means that Social Security funds are drying up. The government intends to increase your payments to that fund. But with an increasing percentage of the population moving into the retired ranks, it's a losing proposition. Either Social Security will go bankrupt or the Federal government will have to make up deficits from your tax dollar.

If the tears aren't flowing too copiously, there is this to consider. Government spenders keep telling us that government expenditures keep going up because the country is growing and with it the Gross National Product. But in 1929, the Federal government was spending 2.5 per cent of the GNP. Even in 1936, the year of the biggest outlays in relief and welfare spending, the government was spending 10.3 per cent of the GNP. In 1963, that figure was 19.7 per cent of the GNP.

Or, if you wish, slice it this way. Again in that big-spending depression year of 1936, the per capita Federal tax bite was $30 a year. In 1963, it was $543 — and the difference cannot be blamed on inflation.

By courtesy of the Tax Foundation and Prentice-Hall comes one other debunked "explanation" for what the government takes. It is always said that though Federal taxes have increased, the real villain in upping the ante has been state and local government. Perhaps, by juggling the facts, you can make this charge stick. But right before me, I can read it plain: In 1932, the Federal government took 22.7 per cent of every tax dollar with the balance going to state and local governments. By 1940, the Federal take had risen to 39.2 per cent. And in 1963, it was 67.2. On the other hand, municipalities, which were getting 53.6 per cent in 1932, had slipped down to 14.8 per cent in 1963. (And then the educationists scold the cities for not putting more money into schools.)

And so to my income tax return.

WILLIAM F. BUCKLEY, JR.

Fellow-Traveling In U.S. Schools

A BOY IN GREAT NECK, Long Island, writes intelligently in the New Leader to remark the revival of pro-Communism in the schools — or at least in his school, which is the Great Neck South Senior High School. And there is no reason to suppose that things at Great Neck are all that different from things elsewhere, though to judge from the article by young Mr. Steve Kelman, there is every reason to wish that they were.

Kelman is himself a liberal, and he is writing in a pro-socialist magazine, so that what he terms pro-Communist is not to be dismissed as what is thought of as the primitive patriotism of a young McCarthyite. He is talking about the genuine article, about classmates who venerate Castro and Mao, who want us to get out of South Vietnam not because the argument appeals to them that we can't win in South Viet but because the argument appeals to them that the Vietcong deserves to win in South Vietnam — because of their superior claims as social revolutionists. He is talking about those students whose views of the American military are formed by Mr. Fred Cook: whose views on Cuban life are taken after I. F. Stone; whose attitudes on China are formed by the apologist accounts of Felix Greene; whose view of America is that of the diseased Minority of One.

YOUNG MR. KELMAN, who has read widely in contemporary and recent political literature, wonders why this is so. One might understand, he ruminates, the pro-Communism of the thirties. Then, after all, there was a Great Depression—and Soviet Russia was the symbol of economic reform. Then there was Nazi Germany — to which Communism presented itself as the antithesis. But now there is no depression, and there is no Adolf Hitler. And on the other hand there is a generation's travesty on idealism, written in the bloody pages of Communist history. What is it that moves so many students in Great Neck, Long Island, sons and daughters of the prosperous gentry of the suburban middle class? Is it the moral and intellectual idiocies of some of their elders?

Kelman has ideas on the subject which are worth listening to, since more often that not it takes youth to know youth. There is little true understanding of patriotism in American schools. What few efforts there are to cultivate loyalty to this country (and to its ideals) are vulgar and ritualistic, inducing respectively contempt and restlessness.

KELMAN REFERS to the Fourth-of-July literature of patriotism, and to such exasperatingly boring routinizations as daily oaths of allegiance — recently ordained by the New York State legislature. The first, since it fails to inspire true loyalty, has the effect of trivializing it, causing some sensitive students to disdain loyalty as a sort of secular opiate. And the second, because of its formalistic nature, tending to excite the iconoclastic blood that lurks in the system of every young man.

Kelman goes no further, and has not apparently discovered the other reasons why there is a loose political morality among his classmates. President Kennedy's failure to achieve the Bay of Pigs is not unrelated to the slow gains Castro is now making in advanced opinion quarters. Our indecision in the Far East hardly damages Mao's image. Our kissing and hugging of Nikita Khrushchev does not serve to remind the students of the long long days in the life of Ivan Denisovitch. And Mr. Kelman has yet to meditate on the fact that the reason better books on patriotism don't exist, is that talented people — like his teachers — don't write them, and probably wouldn't read them. There are other reasons, then, why things are as they are in the schools, but it is a matter for celebration when a student, at so early an age, pauses to wonder why they are so.

State To Gain In Population At Fast Rate

WASHINGTON (Special) —The Census Bureau said Friday Louisiana is growing faster than the U.S. as a whole and will have a population of 5,024,000 by 1985.

This would be an increase of 54.6 per cent over the state's estimated 1964 population of 3,468,000, the bureau said.

Most of the increase would come from the Louisiana birth rate because the state suffers a net loss from interstate migration. If the migration were cancelled out, the bureau said the state's population 20 years from now would rise to 5,096,000.

In the next two decades the national population will rise 48.1 per cent of a total of 265,575,000 assuming no major change in present birth rates.

By 1985, California will have a population of 32,422,000, far ahead of New York's 22,407,000. Texas will become the No. 3 state in population with 14,749,000.

Of other neighboring states, Arkansas is expected to have the smallest increase, up 32.7 per cent to 2,371,000. Mississippi will climb 38.2 per cent to 3,011,000.

Pearce Praises Parish Leaders Of West Carroll

OAK GRQVE (Special) — Commissioner of Agriculture Dave L. Pearce Friday praised the agriculture and business leaders of West Carroll Parish for contributing several hundred dollars to be used as prize money to induce more farmers to grow vine-ripened tomatoes in the Northeast Louisiana area this season.

Final plans for the incentive program will be announced at the Forest High School March 6 at 7:30 p.m. in conjunction with an all-night gospel singing program.

The money derived primarily from the Oak Grove Lions Club and Northeast Louisiana Produce Association. Pearce commented this was the first section in Louisiana and several surrounding states to offer an incentive program to aid the agricultural economy.

This is one of the main aids used in promoting California and Florida produce crops, Pearce said.

There have been 150 acres booked for growth this season, representing about 50 per cent new growers. Officials anticipate this year's crop will reach 200 acres.

Committee Asks Commissions For Coordination

BATON ROUGE (AP) — The Legislative Committee on Economy Friday recommended advisory commissions be set up to coordinate Louisiana public higher education and capital improvements.

The separate recommendations were among several made to Gov. John McKeithen in a meeting here.

The committee, headed by Sen. Jackson B. Davis of Shreveport, recently submitted 80 ideas to the governor for consideration. He checked approval of 27 and returned the list to the committee.

Sen. Fred Eagan, New Orleans met with the committee and discussed his proposal to set up a superboard to oversee all Louisiana higher education.

The committee indicated in a statement later it made comparisons between Eagan's proposal and ideas committee members had been forming.

The committee said it "strongly recommended to the governor that a state advisory committee on higher education, composed of outstanding citizens in the state, be formed to advise the governor and the legislature as to the direction in which coordination of higher education should develop . . ."

This recommendation appeared similar to one by Carlos Spaht, McKeithen's executive counsel and a member of the Louisiana State University board of supervisors. He had suggested a coordinating council with advisory functions and a professional staff to study education needs.

Traffic Cases Head City Court Session Docket

A relatively light docket of cases was processed in Monroe City Court here Friday, with Judge W. M. Harper presiding. Minor traffic violations constituted most of the 32 cases handled.

Luevenia Reed, 1018 South McGuire, Monroe, pleaded guilty to theft charges and was sentenced to a $200 fine or 60 days in jail.

Battery charges brought fines for three persons: Harold D. Scott, Tourist Hotel, $30 or 30 days; Floyd Lee Johnson, 512 St. John, Monroe, $10; and Charles Thomas, 615 Miss. St., Monroe, $10.

Appearing on speeding charges was Kenneth R. Osbon, 1308 Sterlington Road, Monroe, whose plea of guilty brought a fine of $17. Forfeiting bonds on speeding charges were Angelers R. Deland, 807 McGuire, $20; and Georgia T. Harris, 3812 Owl St. Monroe, $50.

Found guilty of reckless driving after pleading not guilty to the charge were Gladys L. Bradley, 701 South 2nd, $30 fine; and Ray G. Pack, 1008 Montgomery St., West Monroe, $30 fine. Charlette B. Catalina, 1409 South 4th, pleaded guilty to the charge and was fined $30. Forfeiting bond on similar charges were Marie P. Adams, of Columbia, $40; and George S. Mitchell 2404 South Grand, $40.

Minor violations included five for running stop signs, two each for disturbing the peace and following too close, and one each for no driver's license, running red light, and having improper brakes.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you. 2-27

Course Slated

JONESVILLE (Special) — A church study course of Spanish Speaking America will be taught for the primary and junior age groups at the Jonesville Methodist Church beginning Tuesday, March 2, and will be held on each Tuesday during the month of March. The time of the study will be at 3:15 p.m. until 4:15 p.m.

Pickets March

MERIDIAN, Miss. (AP) — Thirteen pickets protesting a court decision in the civil rights trio slaying marched in front of the federal building here Friday without incident as police watched.

One of the demonstrators was Mrs. Fannie Lou Chaney, mother of James Chaney, one of the three civil rights workers killed near here last summer.

They carried signs which read "Murder is a Misdemeanor in Mississippi" and "Impeach Cox."

Killed By Fall

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—John M. Ellis, 44, died Friday of injuries suffered in a fall from a float in a Mardi Gras Carnival parade Thursday night.

Police said Ellis fell backwards off the glittering float and landed on the ground 12 feet below.

Ellis was a participant in the Krewe of Momus parade, one of 22 parades held during the final 10 days of Carnival. Masked riders on the floats toss trinkets to the crowds massed in the streets.

Attending Meet

FARMERVILLE (Special) — Woodrow Downs of Farmerville, Grand Master of the State of Louisiana Masonic Lodge is in Washington D. C. this week. He is one of six to present papers at the Conference of the Grand Masters of North America. His subject was "How Can We Develope A Masonic Educational Program Which Will Really Reach the Membership Of Our Constituent Lodges?". Mrs. Downs and daughter, Linda accompanied Downs to Washington. He is County Agent of Union Parish.

Contract Awarded

FARMERVILLE (Special) — The contract for the construction of a swimming pool in Farmerville was awarded this week to Mike Bullock of Monroe in the amount of $25,000. The pool will be located on the Farmerville-Marion Highway, on property of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hayes, who donated the tract. The pool will be 75 feet long and 35 feet wide at the deep end and 50 feet wide at the shallow end. Depth will range from 2 feet to 10 feet.

Several Qualify

SPEARSVILLE (Special) — Individuals who qualified for the election of city officials in the Town of Spearsville's election set for April 10 are for mayor: R. W. Rhodes and W. H. Barron; for aldermen (three to be elected) Virgil Rhodes W. H. Cole, Melvin Stone and Elton Rockett; for marshall: Ronald Foster and Gordon Bryan; for executive committee, unopposed: W. C. Cherry, Rudolph Barron and O. B. Hughes.

Funds Allocated

BATON ROUGE (AP) — The Louisiana Higher Education Facilities Commission allocated $2.7 million Friday to six state universities and colleges for additional classroom, laboratory and library space.

Allocations of the federal aid included $764,000 for construction of a science building at the proposed Shreveport branch of Louisiana State University.

Other allocations approved included:

Loyola University, chemistry Building, $500,000; Louisiana Polytechnic engineering laboratory, $260,000; University of Southwestern Louisiana, library, $500,000; St. Mary's Dominican, New Orleans, library, $211,852, and Tulane University, library, $500,000.

Research Paper By Professor Here Published

A Northeast Louisiana State College mathematics professor is the author of a scientific research article published recently by the Journal of the Association for Computing Machinery.

Edward B. Anders reported on research done for the Nationl Aeronautics and Space Administration in the extracting of desired frequency information data usually received by telemeting devices from such sources as satellites.

This information is currently being utilized by the data reduction computer laboratory at the George C. Marshall Space Flight Center, Huntsville, Ala.

Anders, who is now assistant professor of mathematics at Northeast State, began his research while pursuing graduate studies at Auburn University. He is continuing research here, directing a related NLSC department of Mathematics project for NASA. Other faculty mathematicians working with him on the project are, Dr. Dale Bedgood, James Taylo and James O'Neill, and Dr. Daniel E. Dupree.

They are utilizing college Data Processing Center facilities, particularly the IBM 1620 digital computer, in their research.

How To Keep Well

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

DRUG REACTIONS

Reactions to drugs vary considerably. This time a modern product causes ulcers of the lower part of the small intestine. The story begins with the thiazide diuretics, one of the most effective remedies for dropsy. The chemical also is used in the treatment of hypertension, and as an aid in losing weight. It encourages elimination of the water that forms when excess fat is burned up as energy.

These products are safe and efficient. They stimulate the kidneys to filter out more of the sodium ion (sodium chloride is salt) that holds fluid in the tissues. But it is difficult to eliminate one chemical without removing others and, in this case, potassium (K) is lost along with the sodium (Na). A deficiency of K leads to weakness and is overcome by eating foods rich in the chemical or by taking potassium chloride tablets. However, K irritates the lining of the stomach and must be enveloped in a hard capsule or shell (enteric coated) that does not dissolve until it passes thru the gastric pouch. Some manufacturers combine K and the thiazide in a single enteric-coated tablet.

Several months ago there was a striking increase in the number of individuals with ulcers and narrowing of the lower intestine. The ulcers ruptured in some, leading to peritonitis. Further investigation showed all were taking thiazide and potassium in enteric-coated tablets. None were reported among those taking thiazide without K. This incriminated the enteric-coated potassium chloride. The chemical was released in a small segment of the intestine, after the outer shell was dissolved. It is logical to assume that if it irritates the lining of the somach, it will do the same in the intestines.

More than 140 cases, including four deaths, have been reported to the Food and Drug Administration. Physicians breathed a sigh of relief when the diuretic was exonerated because it is a valuable remedy. Hereafter, potassium will be taken in food or in drops as a saturated potassium iodide solution.

MULTIPLE COLDS

Mrs. L. writes: My 2-year-old grandson gets one cold after another. He is hardly over one when the next comes along. Is he likely to develop rheumatic fever from so many colds?

REPLY

Colds are common at this age and his experience is par for the course. Time will tell whether he is likely to develop rheumatic fever.

INFLAMED COLON

D. B. writes: Is dieting the best treatment for colitis?

REPLY

A bland diet helps because it leaves little residue, giving the bowel a rest. But diet is not the sole treatment because there are various types of colitis (spastic, bacterial, and influenzal) each requiring specific care.

HARMONES AND YOUTH

F. L. writes: Is it dangerous for a 75-year old woman to take a hormone shot once a week to make her feel young again?

REPLY

Not dangerous unless she has a malignancy of the breast or reproductive organs. These hormones are not the waters from the Fountain of Youth.

BEDWETTING

Mrs. R. writes: Should a child of 5 years have dry nights?

REPLY

Yes, tho even older youngsters have occasional accidents. Send stamped, self-addressed envelope for leaflet on enuresis (bedwetting).

Camellia Club Meeting Is Set

The regular meeting of the Northeast Louisiana Camellia Club will be held at 7:30 p.m. Monday in the Louis Locke Room of the Ouachita Parish Library, 1800 Stubbs Ave.

The election of officers will be one of the major items to be taken up at the business session. There will also be a discussion of the second annual camellia show, held Feb. 20 and 21.

VOICE OF BROADWAY

By DOROTHY KILGALLEN

WHAT ELSE IS NEW . . . Even many of the drama critics who raved about Edward Albee's newest play, "Tiny Alice," admitted they didn't understand what it was all about. And that's extremely understandable. But if you read the work in book form—and if you're hip to life outside the pleasant suburbs and the ivory towers—it's easy to see that the author was inspired by real people, even if he may never have met any or all of them. Clue: three of the characters are famous, one is obscure, and one is obscure and dead. . . Roger Vadim, working on a picture titled "Love," for which he obviously is qualified, already has Jane Fonda set for the leading female role — naturally, because she's not only talented but his current naturally, because she's not only all of them. Clue: three of the — and he'd give a lot to persuade Marlon Brando to co-star.

Alan King, one of the most popular American performers ever to hit England, has been asked to become a partner in a new London nightclub. He plans to fly over for a few days of conferences (and probably a few dozen new suits) next month . . . Kay Barton, widow of actor James Barton, is looking for a writer to collaborate with her on a biography of her husband . . . TV's horror report of the week: One network is considering the bright idea of providing "Peyton Place" with some real competition — a series based on the pornographic novel "Candy" . . . "The Train" is doing such giant business in Europe that by the time it opens in the United States next month the multi-million dollar cost will be paid off. In some places it's even outgrossing "Goldfinger."

NOW THAT ALL THE GREAT celluloid lovers of the world have been teamed in flickers — Elizabeth Taylor, with Richard Burton, Warren Beatty with Leslie Caron, and Liz Ashley with George Peppard—producer Marty Ransohoff is mulling a movie story combining all three passionate pairs. He feels the script "could write itself." Sure could, and you do like to live dangerously, don't you, Marty? . . . Another landmark for nightowls is about to bite the dust. A long-established California jazz club is on the verge of giving up the ghost as far as musicians are concerned. It may switch to burlesque.

When "Catch Me If You Can" opened in New Haven, members of the audience expressed amazement at Dan Dailey's appearance. They thought he looked younger in person than he did in all those pictures they've been watching on television — and some of those were made two decades ago . . . . Have a fact you probably couldn't find in the Encyclopedia Britannica or the Library of Congress: Because there are only 174 Indian wigs in Hollywood, 1,316 more have to be whipped up between now and the date in June when "The Day Custer Fell" goes before the cameras. Probably cost to the studio, just under $200,000. It's enough to make you bite the dust just thinking about it.

PIER ANGELI'S FRIENDS report she spurned a large sum of money from a magazine that wanted her to pose for a series of pictures in the nude. Pier doesn't need the money that badly, and furthermore, realized it would be a disastrous image for her in view of all the problems she's had with Vic Damone over custody of their son.

Il Mio, the discotheque in Delmonico's which laid a bomb as a private club, has become a swinging spot since Timmy and Tanya Everett, the dancing brother and sister team, took over as host and hostess. Now the place is full of attractive young people in sweaters, boots and slacks — a far cry from the original air of gloomy swankery — as well as kids from the theatre casts and such celebrities as Judy Garland, Shelley Winters and June Havoc — so you can hardly shoehorn yourself into the premises. Of course some of the older and more Blue Book set is going, too, just to watch the brave ones fall down in La Bostella. . . . The new rage saloon uptown is called Soerabaja; you can tell because Elaine Stritch has found it.

ANDRE MAUROIS, the esteemed French writer, will head the Cannes Film Festival jury in May, guiding the panel that decides which pictures and personalities get the prizes. He accepted the invitation with one proviso: No official receptions His quote? "At my age, 79, such affairs become too boring. Besides I want to see every one of the films."

Of course, when those flash bulbs start popping, M. Maurois may just deign to spend a few minutes at one of the social events.

DOW JONES HIGHER

Mart Has Seventh Uninterrupted Rise

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market made it seventh straight daily rise and pushed the Dow Jones industrial average once more above the significant 900 level at the close.

Trading was active, volume totaling 5.84 million shares.

The Dow industrials rose 3.58 to 903.48. It was the first time since Feb. 9 that the average had closed above 900, a level which it had pierced with some difficulty.

Little hope was evidenced for another market rise as the trading day began. Economic news was dampened by declines in building contracts, auto output and consumer buying plans. As trading got under way, however, the market seemed unwilling to yield any ground on balance. In fact, it moved up despite considerable profit taking on recent gainers.

The technical strength begot more strength, enough to put the averages ahead by a respectable margin. This was due chiefly to solid gains by a relatively few of the pivotal stocks. Gainers barely outnumbered losers in the list as a whole.

Of 1,360 issues traded, 557 rose and 532 fell. New highs for 1964-'65 totaled 114 and new lows 8.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks rose .5 to 336.1 with industrials up 1.6, rails off .2 and utilities off .2.

The industrial section of the list was rescued by, among others, du Pont, up 3½, General Motors, up 2⅛, Eastman Kodak, up ¾, Kennecott, up ½ and Woolworth, up 1⅜.

Woolworth's report that its 1964 profits were a record brought buying to this blue chip.

Radio Corp., reporting record fourth quarter earnings and 1964 results higher than previously estimated, was the most active issue, up ½ at 32 on 109,600 shares.

Nine of the 15 most active stocks advanced, five declined and American Motors was unchanged.

The strength in the list also brought in some pre-weekend short covering, brokers said, affecting some of the more volatile issues in electronics and other "science" fields which have been getting a renewed play after lying dormant for some time. Short covering is the purchase of shares to repay stock borrowed to effect short sales, that is sales made in the hope of a decline.

U.S. Rubber was weak, sinking 1¼ on news that Indonesia has assumed management of the company's rubber plantation in Sumatra. It was reported, however, that this will have little effect on earnings because the company has been unable to get profits out of Indonesia for the past several years.

Tidewater Oil advanced 2⅜ on a report that it is negotiating for the possible sale of its western marketing and manufacturing properties as well as certain other assets.

With plans of their merger fully reported, there was some profit taking in Pepsi Cola, which lost 2, and Frito-Lay, which fell ⅞.

Motorola introduced a new line of color television receivers and the stock advanced 2¼.

Arnold Constable advanced 1⅛ to 11⅜ while Vornado lost ⅜ at 36½ on a published report that the companies are negotiating a merger on the basis of three shares of Arnold Constable for one share of Vornado.

Grain Futures Generally Firm In Light Trade

CHICAGO (AP) — Speculators found a little encouragement in light tenders on March contracts in the grain futures market and prices became generally firm of the time on the Board of Trade.

Corn and oats moved up major fractions in spots and March soybeans recovered three cents or so from the early lows when liquidation had weakened the contracts.

Arkansas Will Decide Today On Road Issue

CROSSETT, Ark. (Special) — Arkansas voters will decide today in a special election whether the state is to borrow $150 million for an expanded road program.

The state administration has said that $90 million will go to the state highway commission, $30 million to the countries, and $30 million to the cities.

The bond issue has been pushed vigorously by Gov. Orval Faubus against mounting opposition from the more conservative factions in the state, including the Republican Party, headed by Winthrop Rockefeller.

It is estimated that the interest on the 20-year bonds will be $50 million.

Drop Reported In Absenteeism At Schools Here

Absenteeism, at high levels earlier this week, had returned to normal in City of Monroe schools Friday and had dropped over two percentage points in Ouachita Parish schools.

City Supt. Van D Odom listed average absenteeism at 8.31 per cent of enrollment, down from the 12.38 per cent noted Thursday, while the 15.3 per cent recorded in parish schools Thursday had fallen to 13.2 per cent, according to Supt. Milton C. Hall.

In white city schools, counting all 11 of them, there were 440 absences from an enrollment of 5,316, accounting for 8.27 per cent. The five Negro schools reported 429 absences among 5,139 students, which figured at 8.34 per cent. Together, there were 869 absences.

The parish system tallied 1,233 absences among an enrollment of 9,306 at 14 white schools covered in a spot check. The worst experience apparently was at Ransom School, which reported 75 absences, or 20 per cent of enrollment.

This was followed by Millsaps School, at 19 per cent, and Claiborne School, 17 per cent. Heaviest absenteeism at four Negro schools checked was at Swayze, which reported 17 per cent, with 136 absences.

Other percentage totals given by Hall included: Calhoun, 16 per cent; Lenwil, 15; Ouachita Parish High, 12; Ouachita Parish Junior High, 14; Riser, 16; West Monroe High, 13; and Shady Grove, 10.

Both Hall and Odom were optimistic that the return of better weather would continue the fall in absenteeism.

LIVESTOCK

Water System Loan Approved

The Clay Water System, Inc. of Jackson Parish has closed a $15,000 loan to build a domestic water supply system, F. L. Spencer, state director, Farmers Home Administration, United States Department of Agriculture, announced Friday.

Clay will install a domestic water system consisting of a deep water well, a hydro-pneumatic pressure system, and the necessary distribution system to service 2 customers.

Rural water system loans are available to organizations on a non-profit basis, to water districts and small rural towns or villages. These loans are made only when adequate credit at reasonable rates and terms is not otherwise available, Spencer said.

BULLET WOUND

1st Person Dies In Selma Affair

SELMA, Ala. (AP) — A Negro who said he was shot by a state trooper during a bloody night of racial violence became the first fatality Friday in Alabama's new civil rights struggle.

Jimmie Lee Jackson, 26, a bachelor, died at Good Samaritan Hospital of a bullet wound in the stomach, inflicted during a night of street demonstrations eight days ago at nearby Marion.

He died of a massive infection complicated by respiratory difficulties, a hospital official said.

The hospital administrator, Sister Michael Ann, said Jackson told attendants when he was brought in that he had been shot by one of the state troopers who rushed to Marion when it became known that Negroes planned a night march through the streets. The Negroes were in the midst of a right-to-vote campaign.

Jackson did not identify the trooper.

Col. Al Lingo, commanding officer of the state troopers, declined to comment directly on Jackson's statement to hospital authorities, but he did say: "I have made a thorough investigation of the shooting and I have turned my findings over to the circuit solicitor to take necessary action."

He would not elaborate.

Eight persons, including three newsmen, were beaten during the encounter which erupted when about 400 Negroes left a church and started marching to a county courthouse.

Jackson, who also had a two-inch gash on his head and bruises on his back, told hospital attendants that he also was beaten by a trooper.

His mother, Viola Jackson, 50, and his 82-year-old grandfather, Cager Lee, were among the others who said they were beaten by club-swinging troopers.

They were undergoing treatment at another Selma hospital when the gunshot victim was brought to Good Samaritan.

There was no immediate reaction from Negro leaders left in charge of the civil rights campaign in Marion and Selma in the absence of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., who has directed the six-week struggle for equal voting rights.

King has been on the West Coast for the past three days.

Nor was there an immediate indication that Jackson's death following an emergency operation would send Negro demonstrators back to the streets in advance of another planned voter registration drive on Monday.

NAVY LT. (J.G.) Larry J. Cooper of Valdosta, Ga., was presumed killed Friday in an accident while on maneuvers off the California coast. The aircraft flown by the 25-year-old pilot was downed when hit accidentally by a Terrier missile, the Navy and Marine Corps reported. (AP Wirephoto)

A. B. Myatt Sr. Funeral Rites Are Held Here

Funeral for A. Boatner Myatt Sr., 69, of 603 Loop Rd., was held Friday at 10 a.m. at the First Methodist Church of Monroe with the Rev. George Harbuck officiating.

Burial was at Riverview Cemetery by Mulhearn Funeral Home.

A pioneer certified public accountant, Mr. Myatt died unexpectedly Thursday at St. Francis Hospital. He was a member of the firm of A. B. Myatt Co. of Monroe, certified public accountants, founded Jan. 1, 1920, and said to have been the first of its kind in the Twin Cities area.

Mr. Myatt was a native of Ouachita Parish. He was born on Roselawn Plantation June 9, 1895. The plantation is now Charmingdale Subdivision. He was educated in Ouachita Parish schools, attended Louisiana State University and Poughkeepsie, N. Y., School of Business, where he received training in accounting. He was a member of Kappa Sigma fraternity, a member of the First Methodist Church of Monroe, served on the board of the church, was a member of the Louisiana Society of Certified Public Accountants, and was a member of the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants.

In 1922, Mr. Myatt moved to Washington, D. C. where he accepted an appointment in the Special Adjustments Section of the Internal Revenue Service.

He returned to Monroe in 1924 and established his private practice in public accounting.

Survivors include one son, Alex B. Myatt Jr., of Monroe; one brother, Morton Myatt of Baton Rouge; two sisters, Mrs. Neal W. McHenry and Mrs. R. N. Cochran, both of Monroe; and two grandchildren.

PLAY STAGED

Florence, Italy (UPI) — The controversial play "The Deputy" which was banned in Rome was staged here Thursday night without incident. The Rolf Hochhuth play, highly critical of Pope Pius XII for not publicly speaking out against Nazi massacres of Jews in World War II, was presented before an invitational audience of about 500 people.

Revenge Threatens Northern Peace

NEW YORK (AP) — Malcolm X lies dead in a glass-covered bier and to some it is proof that he was somewhat of a prophet.

He had said for months that he was a marked man, that the Black Muslims were out to get him, that he would be assassinated.

On Sunday, Feb. 21, he was slain.

The Black Muslim leadership denied any connection with the case. But a member of the sect was charged in the murder.

Now what?

—An unmistakable undercurrent of fear has developed that the streets of Harlem might become a battleground.

—There is fear that this would go beyond Harlem, into other cities — Northern cities — where there are large concentrations of Negroes.

—A massive confusion which is marked by an irrational, inexplicable suspicion that although black men fired the fatal shots, the orders came from white men can be heard in some Negro quarters.

Within hours after the assassination Sunday afternoon, there were people on the streets of Harlem trying to figure it out.

A heavy-set Negro in a gray fedora stood amidst some 50 Negroes, all still in their Sunday best, and seemed to grow angrier at the sound of his own voice.

"This is all planned out," he said, "This is just more of what they called the long hot summer. You know why Malcolm was killed? It was a warning to you. The Man is telling you you have outlived what he wants. It's only the beginning."

A tall, well-muscled Negro, K. Ahmed Taha — who had been in the Muslim movement with Malcolm X — said:

"Brothers have been killed, beaten, shot and framed for the last year, and it was all done by the Muslims. All of us who left have been fingered for death. Lewis X, Joseph X, Henry X.

"This is war. The bombing of a Muslim mosque will not be the end. It has to be Elijah Muhammad's blood, or nothing."

The New York headquarters of the Chicago-based Muslim movement was destroyed by bombing and fire early Tuesday morning. The supreme ruler of the movement, Elijah Muhammad, in denying Muslim complicity in the Malcolm X murder, decried violence.

Another Negro, Donald Washington — who belongs to the black action group — described the Muslims as "fanatics who believe Elijah is God and will do whatever they are told. The Muslims won't forgive anyone who leaves them."

One widespread feeling is that the Muslims opposed Malcolm X — who once ranked No. 2 in the Black Muslim movement — because when he set up his own mosque and created the Organization of Afro-American Unity he attracted other Muslims to his camp.

The conclusion that much trouble lies ahead also was reached by Louis Michaux, operator of a nationalist book store where street rallies frequently start.

"This is a religious war. If you know anything about history, you know that men have committed the worse atrocities in the name of God than anything else on earth."

Malcolm was slain before some 400 of his followers at a Harlem meeting place. Two men have been charged with homicide, one identified as a member of the Black Muslims.

James Lawson, a towering man who heads the United African Nationalist movement, said "if the trouble goes on here, it could be duplicated in nearly every large black community in the North."

Lawson expressed some of the hostility Negroes feel toward whites because of the assassination.

"I don't know where the assassination came from — Elijah Muhammad or the neocolonialists or from Communist sources — but the influence of the white man is suspect because this can serve the interest of only the white man. It was alien to us. It could destroy not only the nationalists but integration leaders, too."

This feeling was found among Negroes of widely varying backgrounds.

In a well-appointed luxury apartment some intimate friends of Malcolm X talked about Malcolm and how his death "was wanted by the white power structure. The racist element in the United States found they couldn't use Malcolm because he was moving away from the Muslim demand for separatism — that idea of the black men in one place, white men in another — and talking about racial coexistence. They will plot to get rid of anyone like that. So they will keep getting black men to kill black men, and the men who do the killing and the dying will never know who really pulled the strings."

For many ordinary citizens there is the fear and discomfort that comes when the air is heavy with possible violence and when police sprout like a blue, gold-buttoned forest on the streets.

"Most other people just don't think about it," said a Negro insurance man, "but this feeling about violence touches a lot of people who just want to go along living their lives without any more worries than they have. How would you like to live in a building next door to a Muslim mosque and worry when it might get blown up? The older people worry about being burned to death. From a practical point of view, what do I do about having a black nationalist's office in one of my buildings. I might not be able to keep my insurance, or have to pay higher premiums. Banks might not be happy about giving loans."

The Amsterdam News, America's largest Negro weekly newspaper, urged Harlem people to remain calm.

"This will not only show due respect to Malcolm X, but it will also serve to confound his critics, who would like nothing better than to see black people rioting over his remains.

"Let's give Malcolm the warmth and respect that is due him. But let's be cool about it! 'Steady, Eddie!' "

Accreditation Group To Visit Tech March 1-3

RUSTON (Special) — Nine members of the National Commission for Accreditation of Teacher Education will visit Louisiana Tech March 1-3 to study the teacher education program here.

The visiting team, headed by Dr. Helmer E. Sorenson, dean of the College of Education at Oklahoma State University at Stillwater, will spend the three days with deans, department heads, teachers and students to familarize themselves with all phases of teacher education at Tech.

Their report will go to the 19-member council which will decide whether Tech retains full accreditation.

NCATE is a relatively young accrediting agency which was created in 1954 to coordinate the efforts of all the agencies which have an interest in improving teacher education.

Since Tech was approved by one of the parent agencies, the American Assn. of Colleges of Teacher Education in 1949 before the formation of NCATE, this is the first evaluation under the new organization. It is especially important to an institution to receive accreditation since there are 27 states that recognize teacher certificates from NCATE accredited institutions, it was pointed out by Dean C. T. Woodard of the Tech School of Education.

Joining Chairman Sorenson for the evaluation visit are representatives from accredited colleges and universities from Arkansas, Mississippi and Texas.

Members of the visiting team include Dr. Noel A. Childress, University of Mississippi; Dr. Nathan Scott, Birmingham, Ala.; Dean Francis A. Rhodes, Mississippi State University; Miss Amy Jean Greene, Arkadelphia, Ark.; Dr. Jefferson Farris, Conway, Ark.; Dr. Joseph L. Fearing, Houston, Tex.; James DeLee, Baton Rouge; and N. B. Hackett, Baton Rouge.

FIRST PLACE EACH

Nolan, West Pace Rebels In State's First Indoor Meet

By BUTCH MUIR
World Sports Writer

NATCHITOCHES — West Monroe's Steve West and Van Nolan took to the indoors and made like they knew what it was all about at the Prather Coliseum Relays here Friday night.

The Relays, sponsored by the Graduate "N" Club of Northwestern, was the first of its kind ever held in Louisiana.

Both of the thinclads took one first place event each and West had a second place and was in on two winning Relay teams.

The Reb hurdler finished first in the 60 yard highs with a fine :07.4 time and second in the 65 yard lows, just behind the winner, Stuart Blue of Byrd, who finished with :07.3.

Nolan, who wasn't even invited to the meet but was allowed to vault anyway, topped all opponents with a brilliant 13-6 vault, an indoor height that will be hard to beat. Giving Nolan a battle until the bar reached 13-6 was Baker's James McVea, who went out at 13 even.

Rebel David Fragala, who set a mark at the Montgomery Relays two weeks ago, took third at 12-6. Nolan attempted 13-9 but failed on three tries.

West Monroe also captured the two relay events, the four lap and mile. Chip Thompson, Kenneth Frazier, Danny Perkins and West combined to take the two victories posting a 1:16.8 in the four lap and 3:37.4 in the mile. Individual times in the mile relay, which is 440 per man, were: West with 52.4, Frazier 53.6, and Perkins and Thompson 55.6.

Neville, although not taking a first place, showed well in the relays and took second in the 60 yard dash. Jim O'Neal, entering his first meet as a Tiger, took second in the dash, just a step behind Gary Groff of East Jefferson, who won with an excellent 6.3. The Tigers placed third and fourth in the relays.

Groff was voted the meet's outstanding performer on the basis of two first places. The Warrior also won the broad jump with a 23-6¾ inch leap. West was runner up in the voting.

The mile run was the only other event that a Twin City performer placed. West Monroe's Larry Beebe, a sophomore running the mile for the second year, took third in the event with a 4:39.0 time.

Taking first was Paul Arsuaga, of East Jefferson, with a 4:30.1. A half step behind was Byrd's Tad Price at 4:30.3.

In other events, Wayne Roper of Stamps, Ark., the only out of stater at the meet, captured first place in the 880 yard run with a 2:08.0. John Kipp of Airline and Wayne Deloney of Minden took second and third, respectively.

Istrouma's Robert Struppeck won the shot put with a heave of 55-7. Robbie Odom of Byrd and James Poteet of Vidalia placed second and third.

A tie between Billy Jones of Pineville and Natchitoches' Sammy Hilton occurred when both cleared 6-1 but couldn't make 6-2 in the high jump. Hap Plouche, of Pineville and Bill Scurlock of Byrd tied for third.

Lamar Pugh of Baker, with a 53.1, won the 440 yard dash. Greg Falk of Byrd took second and Jeff Rowdon of Amite ended third.

Although not kept by meet officials, West Monroe took first place in unofficial standings with 35 points, Byrd was second with 19½, East Jefferson third 15, Baker fourth with eight, and Neville fifth with seven.

Folley Winner Over Bonavena In 10-Rounder

NEW YORK (AP) — Sharpshooting Zora Folley punctured the Oscar Bonavena balloon Friday night by soundly drubbing the previously unbeaten Argentine heavyweight in a one-sided 10-rounder at Madison Square Garden.

Folley, the fourth-ranking contender from Chandler, Ariz., floored the bull-necked youngster in the eighth round, staggered him in two other rounds, and won from here to Buenos Aires.

Referee Mark Conn and Judge Frank Forbes each had Folley ahead 9-1 in rounds. Judge Nick Gamboli gave Folley a 10-0 shutout. The Associated Press scorecard had it 9-1 for Folley.

Folley, who stretched his unbeaten streak to seven, exposed the muscular, wild-swinging Argentine as a rank novice. Bonavena, a pro only 13 months, had won all eight of his previous pro fights, seven by knockouts.

Church Sparkles As Southwestern Defeats Demons

LAFAYETTE, La. (AP) — Dean Church scored 34 points, set two school records and tied another in leading Southwestern Louisiana to a 91-76 victory over Northwestern State Friday nigh in a Gulf States Conference game.

Church, a 6-foot-2 senior, ended USL's regular season with 629 points and a 24.2 average. Against NSC his 18 for 20 at the charity line set school highs. His 23 points in the second half equaled a mark that he had set earlier in the season.

USL took the lead from the beginning and was never headed as it built up a 38-29 halftime advantage.

NSC cut the lead to six points in the second half with 14 minutes remaining and trailing 50-44. Then Church took charge and pumped in 17 points in the last 10 minutes to assure USL of its 17th victory against nine defeats.

NSC is 10-15 with one game remaining. In the conference Standings, USL is 5-5 and NSC is 1-9.

USL will be host for the NAIA District 27 tourney which opens here March 2.

Indians Without Morgan Tonight

Northeast State helps inaugurate indoor track in Northwestern's new Prather Coliseum tonight but without its top star, hurdler Roger Morgan.

Morgan suffered a leg injury while finishing second in the National AAU Indoor Championships last week. The injury has failed to respond to treatment, according to Coach Bob Groseclose, and Morgan will set this one out.

Preliminary heats of the meet, the Graduate "N" Club Indoor Invitational, will begin at 6:30 today and the finals start at 7 p.m.

Northeast and Houston are expected to be the top teams in the meet although, according to Groseclose, no team champion will be crowned. The Indians are perennial southern track powers while Houston is usually one of the better southwestern teams.

Houston Coach Johnny Morriss will bring 15 athletes to the meet, perhaps including his son John, one of the country's finest high school hurdlers last year. Young Morriss has run the 120-yard high school high hurdles in 13.7.

Other team entries in the college-university division include host Northwestern, Louisiana Tech, Southeastern, Tulane and Stephen F. Austin. There will be one entry from McNeese, sprinter Craig Henry.

Despite the absence of Morgan, Northeast will still have a very strong pair of entries in the 60-yard hurdles in sophomores Roger Mann and Fred Vogel. Mann has run the 60-yard highs in 7.5 this year and Vogel, although his best event is the 330-yard intermediates, is excellent over the highs also.

The Indians will have Ronnie Foutain and Dalton LeBlanc in the 60-yard dash, an event LeBlanc won in the Coliseum Relays two weeks ago. Fountain coming in second. Both were timed in 6.2.

Northeast and Florida State tied for the team championship of the Coliseum Relays' independent division.

Freshman Willis Delhomme will be the lone Indian entry in the 440 while Bobby Keasler, another rookie, and Jim Bodin will run the 880.

Bill White, Robert Harvison and Bodin are slated for the miles and Tom Brown for the two-mile.

John Linta and Paul Hobgood, who each went 14-0 in the Coliseum meet, will vault and Jack McDougall, the best Tribe high jump prospect in many years, is entered in that event and also in the broad jump with Mann.

LeBlanc, Foutain, Vogel and Mike Tabor will form the Northeast team in the four-lap relay, an event covering 704 yards.

In the mile relay, Foutain and LeBlanc will be joined by Delhomme and Cline Averett.

Next week, Northeast will open its home season in a dual meet against Memphis State in Brown Stadium.

DALTON LEBLANC, one of several outstanding Northeast sprinters, will be in action tonight at Natchitoches in new Prather Coliseum where the Indians are entered in the Northwestern invitational indoor meet. LeBlanc will run in the 60-yard dash and on two relay teams.

Pearson Takes Two-Stroke Lead

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Albie Pearson, Los Angeles Angels outfielder, shot a two-under-par 68 Friday for a two-round total of 150 and a two-stroke lead in the National Baseball Players Golf Tournament.

Pearson, the defending champion, who had six three-putt greens for an 81 the first day, did just the opposite Friday by hitting 15 greens and putting superbly — including a 70-footer.

Opening-round leader Ken Harrelson of Kansas City had seven bogies and one double bogey in struggling to a 79 for a 152.

In third spot was pitcher Bob Shaw of San Francisco with 154 followed by four-time winner Alvin Dark, Chicago Cubs coach, who is at 156 in the 72-hole event.

Class C Playoffs Enter Last Day At Northeast

By STUART HILL
World Sports Writer

Semifinal and title games are scheduled today at Brown gym after girls teams dominated action in the second day of play Friday in the Region 2-C Basketball Tournament.

Summerfield, Ogden, Weston, and Enterprise each took opening round games in girls play to advance to today's semifinals.

Weston and Enterprise girls kick off today's action at 10 a.m. followed by defending regional champion Ogden against Summerfield at 11:30. The girls finals will be played beginning at 7 p.m.

In boys play today, Athens meets Start at 1 p.m. with Weston and Davidson taking the floor at 2:30 and the two winners meeting for the title at 8 p.m.

Weston tripped Lisbon, 39-37 Friday while Ogden trounced Start, 70-58, Summerfield tripped up Georgetown, 57-37 and Enterprise gained a 60-38 decision over Mer Rouge.

The winner in the girls division today will travel Thursday to participate in the state quarter finals to be held at the Pineville High School. Eight teams will compete in the quarter finals with the four winners advancing to the Sweet Sixteen tournament to be held at Louisiana College begining Friday.

Winner of the boys division today will also go to Pineville for quarter finals which will be played Wednesday. Four winners from that tourney will go to the Top Twenty Tournament in Shreveport, March 11-13.

ENTERPRISE TOPS

Paced by Johnnie Hodges, Enterprise jumped ahead to stay in the first quarter before rolling over Mer Rouge. Enterprise held a slim, 10-9 margin after the first period of play but increased it to 28-19 by the half.

Hodges dropped in 29 points to lead all scorers for the game while Enterprise boosted its margin to 43-27 at the end of the third. Enterprise got an additional 17 markers in the final frame while holding Mer Rouge to 11.

Marlene Cassels chipped in another 16 points for Enterprise with Shirley Ainsworth adding 12.

Nancey Akers and Cindy Parker had 12 each for Mer Rouge with Betty Hawkins leading the way with 14.

Enterprise had a good day at the free throw marker, picking up 22 points, exactly the number of fouls created by Mer Rouge.

Mer Rouge finished in the runner-up position in District 7-C and Enterprise took the top shot in regular season play in District 8-C.

FROM THE FIELD

Ogden outclassed Start from the field while rolling into the semifinals. Ogden hit 33 shots from the floor while Start punched in 26. Foul shots were of little importance with Start picking up two more than Ogden, 6 to 4, while each team created the same number of fouls, 13.

Ironically, Start had two players to account for a total of 50 points. Ginger Traxler hit 35 points, including 15 field goals, and Terry Chambers scored 15, with 14 coming from the floor.

Gladys Whitten was the only other Start scorer with eight.

Pat Pace picked up 25 points for Ogden with Joy Simon throwing in 21. While their combined total won't reach 50, Carol Thompson hit 14 points to carry them over the hump.

Ogden jumped out in front 19-9 in the opening quarter and scored another 19 points before the end of the half to lead 38-23 going into the third. The third was the most productive for Ogden as it marched in for 24 points while the defense gave up only eight. In the fourth, Start mustered a comeback attempt that fell far short, 70-58.

WESTON WINS

Weston stayed at the foul line most of the afternoon and picked up its winning margin in that fashion. The Weston sextet had to come from behind to advance another round and dropped in 21 free shots in the process. Lisbon, on the other hand, scored only seven times from the gratis stripe.

Ann Scriber paced Lisbon with 18 points followed by Barbara Merrill with 14. Yvonne Willis of Weston took all scoring honors with 21 points. Linda Peel and Linda Shows had nine each for the winners.

The contest was close all the way with Lisbon holding a 11-10 edge at the end of the first period and a 22-20 margin at halftime.

In the second half Weston overtook the lead early and lost it only once, with 41 seconds left to play, when Merrill hit one from the field to tie the score at 37-37.

Willis' free throws kept Weston in the lead most of the second half and she and Peel hit one each in the closing seconds to assure the win. Willis hit 15 from the free line.

Weston came from behind in the third period to take a two point lead at 30-28.

Lisbon suffered a setback late in the game when Carol Evans twisted her knee and had to be removed from the game.

SUMMERFIELD STOMPS

By the end of the first half, Sandra Bishop had pushed through nine shots from the field and two from the free line to pace the Summerfield sextet to a 28-14 lead. She continued to hit the nets for 31 points before she sat out the rest of the game from about midway in the final frame.

Georgetown, on the short end of the stick, both in players' height and score, got a good performance from Connie Holmes, who scored 28 points in the face of a much taller defense.

Summerfield, Distirct 5-C winner, blasted Georgetown for the first three quarters, 15-8; 13-6 and 20-6 to lead 43-20 going into the final frame.

Mary Cullins, who fed Bishop most of her shots during the game, netted 13 points for the affair, with six coming in the opening half. Nita Grigsley hit eight for the winners.

West Monroe Boys Club

Six games are on tap for today in the West Monroe Boys' Club basketball tournament with the consolation and final brackets set for tonight.

Action begins at 9 a.m. today with the Celtics taking on the Warriors. At 10 the Royals meet the Hawks, at 11 Crosley plays Shady Grove, at 12 Knicks battle the Lakers, at 1 Lenwil meets Millsaps and at 2 the 76'ers play the Pistons.

Consolation rounds are set for 5 and 7, with the finals scheduled for 7 and 8.

In regular Boys' Club play Friday the Knicks edged the Royals, 24-23, in the Little Boys' league behind the shooting of Bobby Fox and Bobby Wiggins with 10 each.

Randy Jackson netted 11 for the Royals.

In Elementary League action Lenwil beat Riser, 29-19, as Kevin McKnight scored 22 markers. Danny Kane netted 13 for the losers.

The Lakers defeated the Hawks, 26-15, in Little Boys' play behind the shooting of Buddy Fisher with 10 points. Randy Boultinghouse netted six for the losers.

Crosley defeated Highland, 25-15, in another Elementary game, as Cullins netted 10 markers. Korn hit six for Highland.

Pitts Named MVP

ATHENS, Ga. (AP)—For the second straight year, high scoring Jimmy Pitts has been named the most valuable player on the University of Georgia basketball team.

Pitts, a 6-foot-1 senior from Smyrna, Ga., will be honored in ceremonies tonight before the Georgia - Florida basketball game.

TRIBE GYMNASTS WIN

Magdaleno Paves Way For Victory

Henry Magdaleno of Northeast State was the top individual performer of the fourth annual Louisiana collegiate gymnastics championships here Friday night as he won six out of the seven events he entered.

The freshman star was beaten only in the side horse event, where he finished third behind teammate Dwight McLemore and LSU's Bobby Boudreaux. He did not enter the trampoline, won by Joe Parks of LSU.

Only two teams competed in the meet, host Northeast and LSU. Memphis State was scheduled to appear but did not make the trip because of snow.

Because of the limited team entries no team champion was named.

The individual gymnasts received awards in university and college divisions. The top three men in each event were designated university division performers and the next three in the college division.

Magdaleno was an easy winner in the university all-around competition with teammate Gene Huffty second and Boudreaux third.

In the college division, all-around Tom Heineike was first, McLemore second and Jim Walker third. All are from Northeast. The college division all-around championship was decided in afternoon preliminaries.

Northeast, which won its first three meets, will compete next Saturday in the Southwestern Collegiate Meet at Lafayette.

TV Rights For Terrell-Machen Fight Are Sold

CHICAGO (AP) — Closed circuit television and general television rights to the WBA-sanctioned world heavyweight title bout between Ernie Terrell and Eddie Machen March 5, were sold to Lester M. Malitz, Inc., of New York Friday.

The deal was announced by co-promoters Irv Schoenwald and Joe Kellman, who did not disclose terms or extent of closed circuit coverage. The regular TV phase concerns taped showing.

The Malitz firm handled similar coverage for the recent Floyd Patterson-George Chuvalo fight in New York's Madison Square Garden and claimed closed circuit distribution was the richest for a non-title bout.

Patterson-Chuvalo fight films later were shown on regular television.

The Terrell-Machen bout will be held at the International Amphitheatre, beginning at 10:30 p.m. CST.

Pollock Defeats Harrisonburg By One Point, 62-61

HARRISONBURG (Special) — Pollock avenged two earlier season defeats here Friday night when it defeated 5-B champion Harrisonburg 62-61 in a class B bi-district playoff contest.

The visitors, runners-up in 6-B, had lost to Harrisonburg twice this season, once by two points and another time by six points in overtime. And the Friday night affair was another just as close as the previous two.

Pollock led 18-17 after one period and was still in front, 36-31, at intermission. But Harrisonburg came back to grab a 48-47 third period lead and were leading 61-60 with 15 seconds to play when Pollock picked up a bucket to get the winning margin.

All five starters hit in double figures for the winners. Bill Crump led with 16 points, Arthur Doughty had 14, Lester Humbles added 12 and Don Boren and Ronnie Elkins chipped in 10 each.

Three men hit the double digit mark for Harrisonburg with David Mitchell chalking up 18 to lead all scorers. Steve Gibson tallied 16 and Malcolm Terry had 10. Travis Cooper scored nine and Ronnie King got seven to round out the top Harrisonburg scorers.

Pollock will host Marthaville in a regional playoff game next Tuesday night, March 2, while the loss ended the season for Harrisonburg with a 28-15 record.

Winnfield Girls Reach Sweet 16 Meet With Win

WINNFIELD (Special) — Winnfield's girls, defending AA state champs for the past two years, marched into the Sweet Sixteen State Tournament again Friday night by taking a quarter final victory from Opelousas, 64-39.

Winnfield's first game in the state meet, which is to run March 3-4-5 at the Louisiana College gymnasium in Pineville, is against Amite.

Phyliss Love poked in 29 ponits and Docia Dalby added 28 as the Tiger sextet had little trouble against the visitors. Winnfield led 30-17 at halftime.

Fern Martin scored 26 and Lynn Owen got 11 for Opelousas.

The guards for Winnfield, who did an outstanding job, were Alice Poole, Jody Newman and Carol Jean Keyes.

Marion Trims Bonita By 78-56

MARION (Special) — Bennett Taylor and Bobby Reagan pumped in 32 and 25 points, respectively, to lead Marion's Panthers past Bonita, 78-56, in a Class B bi-district playoff tilt here Friday night.

Dwayne Humphries hit 18 and Milton Morgan 13 for Bonita.

Marion, holding a sparkling 39-1 record, will play at Haughton Tuesday night in the regional playoffs. Haughton defeated Castor Friday night in a bi-district game.

The Panthers broke from a 14-14 first period deadlock and reeled off 23 points in the second stanza for a 37-27 halftime edge. Marion pumped in 21 and 20 points in the third and fourth periods, respectively, to put the game out of reach.

Taylor, a 6-4 senior, grabbed off 17 rebounds, while teammate Lum Farr, a 6-2 sophomore grabbed off another 13 to keep Marion ahead in that department, while the defensive work of Greg Taylor and Garry Crow kept Bonita off balance.

Quitman Junior Meet

QUITMAN (Special) — Four games were played Friday in the second round of the Quitman junior high cage tournament and the final round is on tap today in all divisions.

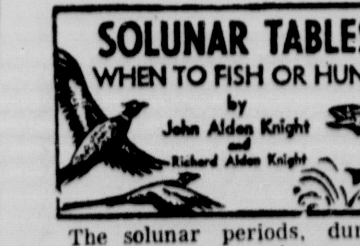
Today at 1:30 the West Monroe boys play Quitman in an eighth grade semi-final tilt followed at 2:40 by another eighth grade game matching Bienville against Arcadia. At 3:50 the ninth grade boys from Midway of Shreveport take on Choudrant.

The eighth grade boys finals start at 6 p.m. tonight, the ninth grade girls finals with Quitman playing Chatham, are set for 7 p.m. and the ninth grade boys finals begin at 8:20.

Friday, Chatham beat Bienville 37-33 in a ninth grade girls game as Becky Tippen hit 18 points.

Linda Lynde tallied 32 as Quitman beat Simsboro 48-17 in another girls ninth grade game.

Martin and Smith canned 12 points each to pace Bienveille's eighth grade boys over Choudrant, 37-13, and Lisbon's eighth graders won 44-23 over Quitman as Pepper and Wilson netted 13 each.



The solunar periods, during which there is maximum fish and wildlife activity, are printed below. Major periods began at the times shown and last for an hour and a half or two hours. Minor periods are shorter.

Pioneer Blasts Sterlington Out

PIONEER (Special) — Pioneer blasted Sterlington out of the Class B bi-District playoffs here Friday night, rolling over the Panthers, 66-61.

Billy Spann hit 34 markers to pace the Pioneer quintet, which copped first place in District 4-B in regular season play. Sterlington finished runner-up to Marion in the 3-B league.

David Stuart was the high man for Sterlington with 22 points.

Vidalia Scores 65-38 Triumph

VIDALIA (Special) — Vidalia earned a berth in the upcoming Sweet Sixteen tournament by defeating Lake Arthur, 65-38, in a quarterfinal round of Class A playoffs here Friday night.

Aaronette Eifling and Judy Poole led Vidalia to its 24th victory against five setbacks as they scored 35 and 15 points, respectively.

Edith Trahan tallied 20 of Lake Arthur's points.

The Sweet Sixteen tournament will be held at Louisiana College in Pineville, March 4-6.

Wisner Winner

FORT NECESSITY (Special) — Junior Pierce whipped in 25 points here Friday night to lead Wisner to a 73-59 undergraduate victory over Fort Necessity.

Fort Necessity took the girls game, 58-31 behind the 27 point shooting of Mary Robins. Diana Rails hit 10 for Wisner.

Wilby Campbell sank 17 for Fort Necessity in the boys game.

West Monroe Wins At Epps

EPPS (Special) — West Monroe's freshman girls defeated Pioneer, 55-33, in action Friday night of the Epps Junior Tournament.

Three players hit in double figures for the local team. Gloria Stovall tallied 14, Becky Maney 11, and Virginia Reeves 10.

In other girls' contests, Transylvania beat Epps, 51-24, as Charleen Thompson netted 22 points.

Goodwill dropped Kilbourne, 68-26, behind the 34 points of Judy Peterson.

In boys' action Godwill whipped Oak Grove, 49-34, with Lelon Rawls scoring 21 points.

Monticello trounced Holly Ridge, 45-18, with Robert Harrington scoring 18 markers.

Semfinals today match Goodwill with Transylvania at 9 a.m. and West Monroe with Jett of Vicksburg, Miss., at 10:30 a.m. in girls' play, and Epps with Transylvania at 1 p.m. and Monticello with Goodwill at 1:30 p.m. in boys action.

Finals are scheduled for 6:30 p.m. and 8 p.m.

Woodlawn Ends Tourney Today

The closing round of the Woodlawn Junior High school cage tourney is set today after four games were played Friday.

Woodlawn boys topped St. Pascal, 30-15 with Caples and Christy hitting eight each for the winners. Woodlawn also took two girls games, 23-2 over St. Pascal and 22-15 over Lee. Bonette hit nine in one and 19 in another for Woodlawn.

West Monroe's girls downed Logtown, 38-16 with Certain hitting 16 for the winers.

In today's games, Riser vs. Lee boys at 11 a.m.; Woodlawn vs. West Monroe boys at 12 noon; Lee vs. Logtown girls at 1 p.m. for consolation; 5:30 p.m. boys consolation; and 6:30 and 7:30 p.m. championships.

Caldwell Parish Tourney Ends

COLUMBIA (Special)—Semifinals in the Caldwell Parish Independent basketball tournament are slated this afternoon, with finals on tap tonight.

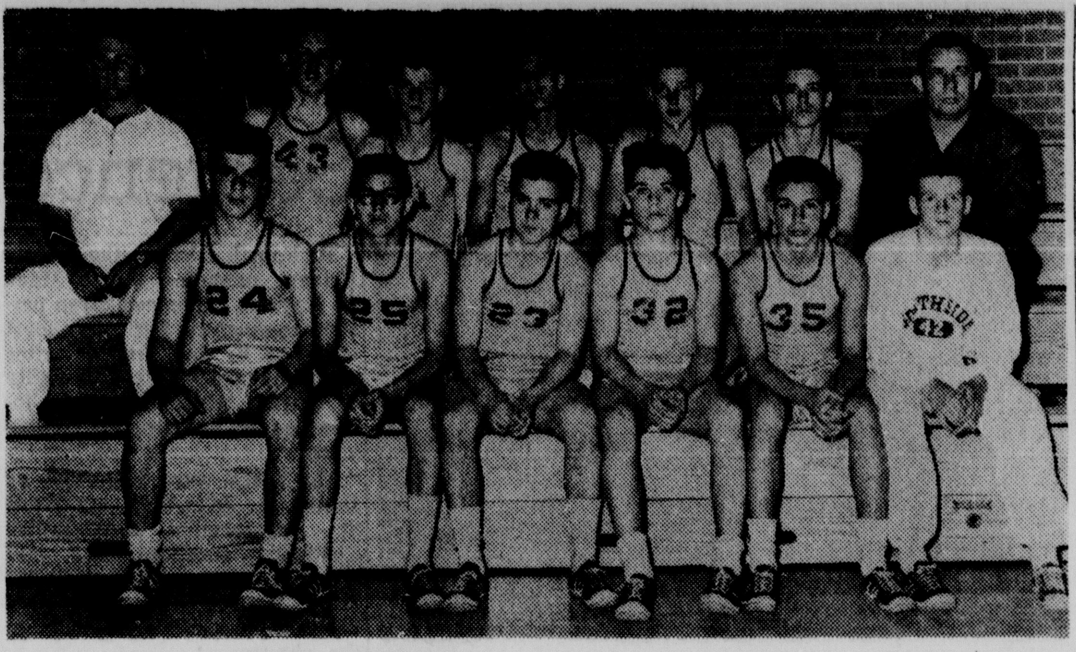
Semifinals match Caldwell girls with Short's Pharmacy at 12:30, Mac Supermarket with Jonesboro boys at 1:30, and Fisher's Texaco with Nixon Gas and Oil at 2:30.

Results of Friday's action saw Mac Supermarket blast Gilbert, 104-62, behind the scoring of Robert Knight with 36 points. Priest hit 17 for Gilbert.

The Jonesboro boys defeated Head Construction, 83-40, as Paige netted 32 markers. Moore hit 17 for the losers.

ABC Finance girls edged Caldwell, 59-54, behind the 22 points of Gloria Redden. Yvonne May carded 24 for Caldwell.

Short's Pharmacy trimmed the Ragdolls, 52-36, as Linda Bryant pumped in 30 markers. Bourland scored 29 for the losers.



SOUTHSIDE JUNIOR High School's basketball team won the Northeast Louisiana junior championship with a slate of 6-2 this season. The Pelicans had an overall mark of 13-9. Team members are left to right, front row: R. Bourgeois, Terry Dick, C. Lovell, V. Mermand, M. Ezernach; back row: Coach Archie Evans, R. Ledet, R. Knighten, R. SNEAD THREE DOWN

Shoemaker Gets Lead In Seniors' Tourney

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP) — Dick Shoemaker, a 54-year-old club pro from Cleveland, left the winners of most the world's major golf titles behind him Friday when he grabbed the first round lead in the Seniors Teacher Trophy Championship with a snappy four-under-par 68.

"This was the best round I ever shot in this tournament," Shoemaker said. "Saturday I'll be back in form and nobody will even know that I'm here."

For the moment, however, he was two strokes in front of the field of around 400 entries and three strokes ahead of Sam Snead, the defending champion and strong favorite, after a day of cold, gusty winds that bothered golf's senior citizens.

"I tightened up in the cold," said Snead, who wound up with a 71. "After the first three holes, my drives were killing me."

Snead, in his debut as a senior golfer last year, won the tournament and went on to clobber British seniors champion Syd Scott, 7 and 6.

Henry Ransom, still a touring golfer at 54; Errie Ball a club pro from Oak Park, Ill., and the venerable Paul Runyon, two-time winner of the PGA championship way back in the 1930s, tied for second with 70s in the opening round.

Ball and Runyon actually beat Ransom, however, because they played 6,735-yard North course at the Fort Lauderdale Country Club on which par is 72. Ransom played the par-70 South course, which measures only 6,349 yards.

The situation will be equalized Saturday when all players switch courses.

Snead tied for fifth with Jock Hutchinson Jr., of Northfield, Ill., Al Huske of Glen Ellyn, Ill., Charles Harter Indianapolis, and Al Labutis of Wallingford, Conn.

Shoemaker was among the last to finish the round and he had a definite advantage, for winds which had gusted at 30 miles per hour during the morning calmed down in the afternoon.

Four top pros of another era became eligible for the tournament for the first time by reaching the age of 50 — Chick Harbert, Jim Ferrier, Chandler Harbert and Herman Keiser — but they didn't make much of a show in the first round.

Harbert, with a two-over par 72 on the easier South course, topped the four.

The field will be cut to the low 100 and ties after the second round.

SET IN WINNSBORO

Nicholls To Play In Cotton Classic

THIBODAUX (Special) — Nicholls State College basketball coach Jim Mahoney, announced today that the NSC Frosh have been entered in the Junior Varsity Cotton Classic in Winnsboro, Louisiana. The freshman-junior varsity meet is slated for March 4, 5, and 6 at Winnsboro High School.

Eleven teams, including the Nicholls State entry, are set for tourney action. Other Louisiana schools entering teams are: Louisiana Tech, the University of Southwestern Louisiana, Northwestern State College, Northeast Louisiana State College, and Louisiana College.

Out of state fives are from Southwest Mississippi Junior College of Summit, Delta State College of Cleveland, Miss., Holmes Junior College of Goodman, Miss., Mississippi College of Clinton, and Arkansas A & M College of College Heights, Arkansas.

The Little Colonels ended their regular season recently with impressive wins over the Loyola University Freshmen and the Lockport Independents, and enter the single-elimination tournament with a 7-5 record and a two game winning streak.

Nicholls nine man freshman team has John Summers (6-1) of Madison, Ill., Sammy Maniscalco (5-10) of New Orleans, and J. C. Dusenbery (6-0) of Houma, in the backcourt; Clyde Richards (6-4) of Dyess, Ark., John Keife (6-5) of Houma, and Jerry Harper (6-6) of Bastrop, at center; and Stanley Beaubouef (6-4) of Buckeye, Kenny Verret (6-2) of Lockport, and John Vitter (6-3) of Ponchatoula, at the forwards. Summers, Richards, Beaubouef, and Harper were regular starters on the varsity, and all the frosh started in one or another varsity contests during the season.

The Colonels first game is slated for 4:00 p.m. Friday, March 5, against the Arkansas A & M College Junior Varsity.

Jonesboro Will Take On Jesuit Flyers Tuesday

JONESBORO (Special) — Jonesboro, winner of district 2-AA, and league rival Ruston, the runner up in loop action, are now preparing for bi-district games slated next Tuesday.

Jonesboro, last year's double A state champs, will host Jesuit in a 7:30 bout next Tuesday while Ruston goes to Vivian for a contest against North Caddo the same day.

The Tigers of Jonesboro met Jesuit in this same situation last season and copped a 54-52 win over the Blue Flyers.

Jonesboro carries a 20-8 into the tilt and Ruston goes to Vivian with a 17-10 mark. The two clubs finished with identical 5-1 league records and J-H won a playoff game for the title.

Pine Hills Gun Club To Reopen Sunday Affairs

Pine Hills Gun Club, idled through the fall and winter regular hunting months, will reopen for regular Sunday afternoon shoots at its gun range at Bancroft Camp tomorrow.

The club grounds on Cheniere lake will open at 1 p.m. Sunday, shooting will begin at 2 o'clock with the shotgun enthusiasts banging away at skeet and over the traps.

Memberships are also being accepted for the new season which will run through the spring, summer and early fall with shooting each Sunday until the autumn hunting seasons begin.

Recreation Basketball

Bradford and McConathy Realtors, Fairbank Farmers and Haddad took second round victories in the Monroe Recreation Department's first annual independent tournament Friday night.

In games set for today, the Wossman Kats and Haddad tangle at 9:30 a.m. and KLIC and Liberty meet at 11 a.m.

Semifinals are scheduled for 2 p.m. with the winner of the Wossman-Haddad game meeting Fairbank Farmers, and at 3:30 p.m. with the winner of the KLIC-Liberty match taking on McConathy.

The consolation round is at 7 p.m. and the championship game is set for 8:30 p.m.

In action Friday, Haddad beat Shaw Oxygen, 63-46, as Hays, Krauss and Butler all scored 12 points each. Rodes had 15 for the losers.

McConathy dropped Oglesby, 74-68, behind the 19 points of Williams and the 16 of Toms. Roycel hit 17 and Homer and Spence 16 each for the losers.

Fairbank Farmers raced to a 105-92 over the Boys' Club behind the 35 points of Lazenby and the 34 of Mercer. Brewster led the losers with 23, while Breland netted 18 and Caufield 17.

Craddock Sparks Engineers Past Auburn Bengals

AUBURN, Ala. (AP)—Senior R. D. Craddock came up with all the big pressure plays in the closing minutes of play Friday night to lead Georgia Tech to a 59-54 upset basketball victory over Auburn.

Craddock scored six of Tech's last 10 points and two of the field goals put Tech back into the lead after Auburn managed to tie the score. Auburn, which trailed 30-21 at halftime, battled back to tie the score 46-46 and seemed to be gaining momentum.

But Craddock hit a short jumper to put Tech back on top, 48-46. The Tigers then tied it up again, but Pres Judy tallied to put the Yellow Jackets ahead 52-50 and Craddock scored again to make it 54-50 with 1:54 to play.

The play that killed Auburn's chances for victory came seconds later when Joe Newton was called for charging. Judy missed the free throw attempt, but Tech's Jim Caldwell tipped the ball to his teammates.

The Jackets held it for a few seconds and Craddock pumped in another one to give Tech a safe 56-50 lead with less than a minute to go.

Seattle University Team Suffers Effects Of Scandal

EDITORS: How does a coach feel when a basketball fix scandal strikes his team? Charlie Williams and Peller Phillips of Seattle University were arrested last week on charges of complicity in a point shaving scheme. They and reserve L. J. Wheeler were expelled from school of the matter to school officials. This story was written by John Owen, Seattle Post-Intelligencer executive sports editor, when the team returned after games with Nevada and Utah State.

By JOHN OWEN
Seattle Post-Intelligencer

SEATTLE (AP) — "I knew they were thinking about it." Coach Bob Boyd of Seattle admitted. "I knew it from something we overheard on the plane. Somebody asked one of the players what "SU" stood for.

"Usually they'll all shout 'Seattle U.' This time there wasn't that instantaneous outburst."

(The players' reaction was due to the scandal that had hit the team — captain and high scorer Charlie Williams and Peller Phillips had been arrested and expelled from school on point-shaving charges, while a third player, L. J. Wheeler, had been expelled on the charge of knowing of the offense and not reporting it.)

The fans in the Nevada University gym didn't have to be told what SU stood for.

"When we walked into the gym while the preliminary game was in progress the players thought everybody was looking at them. In the past everybody probably looked at us, too, but we weren't looking at them," Boyd continued.

But the Nevada fans didn't restrict themselves to subtle glances. Once, in unison, they spelled out "S-H-A-V-E."

"There were a few other crude remarks from the rooting section at Nevada," said Boyd. "Everybody else we encountered on the trip was completely sympathetic. It was entirely different at Utah State. It was as if every person in Logan, Utah, had been forewarned not to offend us."

Awaiting the Seattle Chieftains at Reno were almost 30 telegrams from people in Seattle. After the game, one large telegram, carrying almost 1,300 signatures, arrived from SU students.

"I don't usually give what you'd call a pep talk. But before the game I sat down and told them I wasn't even trying to fire them up. But I said 20 or 30 people we didn't even know took time to send these telegrams, so I was going to take five or 10 minutes to read them."

After a slow start, the Chieftains defeated Nevada. Two nights later they lost a close game to Utah State.

Some Seattle students and fans have stated publicly they felt the school was unfair to Williams, Phillips and Wheeler in immediately expelling them before innocence or guilt of Williams and Phillips had been determined in court..

"For some reason these people just don't understand that we had to expel them," Boyd answered. "These three boys admittedly refused to report a bribe offer. It is the recommended policy of the NCAA that players who do not report a bribe offer be immediately expelled. And the NCAA expects you to follow their recommendation."

Hazel Walker's Travelers Will Appear At Eros

EROS (Special) — Hazel Walker's Arkansas Travelers will take on a men's independent team at the Eros High School gym March 8.

The game is being sponsored by the Eros Lions Club. Admission will be one dollar for adults and 50 cents for students.

Comprising the men's team will be Jerry Lovett, Calhoun; L. V. Norris, West Monroe; Billy Busbice, Weston; Stuart Toms, Sikes; Jimmy DeCoy, Chatham; Sam Ledbetter, Chatham; Crawford Vines, Eros; Billy Pesnell, Eros; and Bob Humble, Quitman.

Spahn Unsigned

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — Warren Spahn, still unsigned as a player, sat in on an hour-long coaches' meeting with Manager Casey Stengel of the New York Mets Friday.

The club opens its training season today and Spahn, the pitching great purchased by the Mets from Milwaukee during the winter, has not signed. The 43-year-old left-hander expects to double as pitcher and pitching coach.

BASKETBALL ROUNDUP

Bi-District Games In Prep Spotlight

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Former state champion Ringgold rolled to a 93-54 victory over Logansport Friday night as the class B bi-district state playoffs got into full swing.

The bi-district games are the first step to the Top Twenty tourney at Shreveport next month when the state champions in all five classes will be crowned.

Mickey Holtzclaw paced Ringgold with 23 points, clicking on 10 of 11 field goals while Tommy Cassel scored 25 points for Logansport.

Ted Ward and Ken Maynard each scored 18 points to spark Haughton to a 61-38 triumph over Castor. J. E. Hamm was high for Castor with 15.

Florien pulled away in the second half to defeat Vidrine 82-70 with Wayne Lee scoring 32 points and George Carley 18. Don Perrodin led Vidrine with 21.

Marthaville had four players in double figures as it walloped Bordelonville 87-59. High scorer was Delbert Thompson with 25 points while Kenneth Maillet topped Bordelonville with 17 points.

Dennis Spann pumped in 34 points for Pioneer as the Indians edged Sterlington 66-61. David Stewart paced Sterlington with 22 points.

In action Thursday night, defending state champion Plainview rolled over Newellton 70-50; East Beauregard whipped Kinder 58-47 and Vinton defeated Iowa 63-55.

Two bi-district games are on tap tonight. Arnaudville plays at Layfayette's Our Lady of Fitama while Jeanerette duels Lawtell.

In a third Saturday night game, Pride plays Mandeville.

Marion rolled to its 39th victory in 40 games as it whipped Bonita 78-56 with Bennett Taylor and Bobby Reagan scoring 32 and 25 points respectively. Dwayne Humphries scored 18 points for Bonita.

Pollock avenged two earlier season defeats by Harrisonburg by toppling the 5-B champions 62-61 on a field goal in the last 15 seconds.

Bob Ledet tallied 18 points to pace Holy Savior of Lockport to a 53-44 triumph over St. Charles of Destrehan. Pat Delaney led St. Charles with 16.

Eros Schedules 3rd Independent Cage Tourney

EROS (Special) — The third annual Eros Lions Club Independent basketball tournament has been scheduled at the Eros High School Gym for March 9-13.

Deadline for entering the tourney has been set at March 6. An entry fee of 10 dollars per team will be charged. No more than two current college lettermen may play on any 10-man team.

Additional information may be obtained by contacting Coach Crawford Vines, Eros High School. He may be reached by telephone at CH 9-3221, days, or CH 9-3388, nights.

GAME OF THE YEAR

Grambling Hosts Southern Tonight

GRAMBLING, La. (Special)—Grambling and Southern University will flex their muscles here tonight in a pulsating high tension basketball game that annually causes nothing but anguish for the local ticket office.

Athletic Director Eddie Robinson and his staff are faced with the problem of seating 6,000 hysterical but friendly worshipers in a gymnasium built for 4,5000.

Their ingenuity would astonish a sausage maker.

Demands for tickets have mollified Robinson who reacted unhappily by stating that "12,000 tickets could be sold if we had an arena with that many seats."

The Tigers and Jaquars will whoop it up in what has become the states biggest basketball attraction.

Both teams are nationally ranked and understandably are primed to still cries of vocal and volatile fans.

In many respects, tonight's "clean-cut sportsmanlike battle" will resemble a brawl between enraged longshoremen armed with brickbats.

The series has improved with age and the hot air of supporters.

Southern has a dazzling 19-3 record and mild mannered Richard Mack has claimed a share of the Southwestern Athletic Conference championship for the first time in 12 years.

His high geared offense is one of the nation's best. Grambling (19-5) is out of the league race but brash boosters insist that coach Fred Hobdy is still the sheriff of SWAC basketball.

Hobdy and Mack will plot stratagens with all American candidates Robert Love and Wilbur Frazier in key roles.

Exploits of the brilliant duo have had eyebrow raising impact on writers and pro scouts alike. Love is averaging 30.3 points per game, while Frazier has a 29.1 average. Both are polished, confident leaders.

Grambling and Southern have split in two previous meetings this season. Tonight is the rubber match.

Both sides are happy and confident.

Wild Coon Hunt Scheduled Today By Local Group

The North Louisiana Coon Hunters Association will sponsor a wild coon hunt today with five trophies being given to the top dogs, it was announced by Mike Williams, assocation secretary.

Casts will be drawn at 7:30 p.m. at the West Monroe Fair Grounds and there will be four groups. One of the hunters will serve as a guide for each group, directing them to specified hunting areas.

The event is open to all area coon hunters. The hunting phase will last for three hours. Then they will come back to the fairgrounds with scoring cards on dogs for selections of winners.

Lucas Expected To Play Sunday

CINCINNATI (AP) — Jerry Lucas of Cincinnati is expected to play Sunday for the first time since being injured Jan. 31, General Manager Pepper Wilson said Friday.

Wilson said, however, that Lucas will miss the Royals' National Basketball Association game Saturday night with Detroit.

The Royals play New York at Dayton, Ohio, Sunday.

Slow School Boards Must Work Fastest

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — School boards which delay desegregating the longest from now on must complete the process in the shortest time, the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals said Friday.

From now on, said the court in ruling on two Georgia cases, the rule will be: "The later the start, the shorter the time allowed for transition."

The court said the "grade a year" plans begun by Muscogee and Bibb counties, Ga., last fall do not meet this new criteria. The two counties must complete school desegregation by September 1968, the court said.

Both counties began their gradual desegregation plans last fall, starting with the 12th grade and planned to include the 11th grade this fall.

Muscogee County (Columbus) recently announced plans to extend its plan this fall to include the 9th and 10th grades also.

Bibb County (Macon) planned to stick with the grade a year plan. But the appeals court ruled that it, too, must add the 9th and 10 grades to the desegregation plan in September.

"They must also . . . include the first grade at that time," the court said in referring to both counties.

The court said after a careful study of recent Supreme Court rulings "that four years . . . that is by September 1968, is the maximum additional time to be allowed for the inclusion of all grades in the plan."

The court said it is "not specifying the order of inclusion of grades except to say that the process must be continuous during the remaining time and from both ends."

The ruling in part reversed a decision by the district court for the Middle District of Georgia, which had approved the stairstep plan.

The appeals court upheld the district court in refusing to rule at this time on the validity of integrating the teaching staff and administrative personnel of the school systems.

The appeals court said this could best be considered after the desegregation has progressed further among pupils.

In the Bibb County case, the appeals disapproved a pupil transfer plan adopted by that county. A "quasi-freedom of choice plan" in Muscogee County was approved.

Fire Is Fatal At El Dorado

EL DORADO, Ark., (Special) — A fire of undetermined origin claimed the lives of two small Negro boys here early Friday night.

Dan and Van Lockett, two-year-old twin sons of Yvonne Lockett, died of suffocation as a result of fire in their three-room frame home.

The El Dorado Fire Department reported the blaze started at the front of the house.

LEAVES LENINGRAD

MOSCOW (UPI) — Finnish President Urho Kekkonen and his wife left Leningrand Friday for Helsinki by train, the official Tass news agency reported. Kekkonen met with Kremlin leaders during a Moscow visit earlier.

MISS CAROL ANN Sciro, queen of the Mardi Gras, and her escort King Salvadore Miletello presided over St. Fredericks High School's festivities Friday night. The celebration was staged at the school auditorium. After the procession and presentation of the court a dance was held, featuring the Capris from Baton Rouge. (Staff photo by Richard Greene)

American Given Term At Labor In Slaying Case

CLARK AIR BASE, Philippines (AP) — A U.S. general court-martial Friday sentenced Airman 1.C. Larry D. Cole to three years' imprisonment at hard labor for the slaying of a 14-year-old Filipino trespasser at Clark Air Base.

Cole, 21, of Marshall, Mich., was found guilty of unpremeditated murder in the shooting of Rogelio Balagtas at the base's bombing and gunnery range last Nov. 25. He had pleaded innocent.

The incident was one of three at U.S. military bases that recently touched off a wave of anti-Americanism in the Philippines and raised the delicate issue of court jurisdiction.

The sentence, which must be reviewed by the commander of the 13th Air Force and the Air Force Board of Review in Washington, also included a dishonorable discharge, reduction in rank to basic airman and forfeiture of all pay and allowances.

Cole did not testify. In a written statement, he said he fired a warning shot in the general direction of four Filipino youths who were on the gunnery range. He said he did not intend to kill or injure anyone. He was bird hunting at the time. His regular assignment was an Air Policeman guarding the range.

Lt. Col. Bertram Jacobson, the chief defense counsel, contended the case was politically inspired. He said Cole was "a helpless pawn in an international situation."

Several Get District Court Sentences; Trial Dates Set

In Fourth District Court here Friday, presiding Judge Mack E. Barham sentenced three persons to fines of $300 plus court costs or 60 days in jail after each changed to pleas of guilty to driving while under the influences of intoxicating beverages.

The three were identified as Daniel M. Johnstone, 512 Ward St., Farmerville; Fred Miller Thomas, Jonesboro, La.; and Mary K. Odom, Rt. 1 Box 162 West Monroe. All three had earlier pleaded not guilty to the charges.

Andrew J. Mims, of Rt. 1, Calhoun, who appeared on charges of issuing a worthless check for $10, was given a six-months suspended sentence and placed on three years probation.

Willie H. Prater, Rt. 1, Calhoun, was given a fine of $50 or 50 days in jail on charges of resisting an officer.

The case of Rex Skipper, appearing on a second offense for DWI, was remanded until March 1. Skipper was sentenced to 30 days in jail in Friday's session on a count of driving with a revoked driver's license.

In a morning session of District Court, Judge Barham remanded a Monroe man, Claude Larkin Sant, to the Ouachita Parish jail until March 15 when he will be sentenced for simple burglary. Sant entered pleas of guilty to two counts of burglary.

April 5 was set as the trial date for Jerry Delroyce Walls, 401 Browning St., West Monroe, who pleaded not guilty to three counts of forgery and one of simple burglary.

Five persons charged jointly with the theft of coffee valued at $2000 will appear for trial May 3. The five include Glen Doyle Taylor, Rt. 3, West Monroe; John Breard, 2901 Dick Taylor St., Monroe; Thomas Henry Weems, Hinton St., West Monroe; Samuel Palmer Williamson, 211 McClendon St., West Monroe; and Roosevelt Junail, 813 Haynes St., West Monroe.

A Fort Worth, Tex., man, Jerald Steven Smith, pleaded not guilty to charges of unlawful possession of a machine gun and will come up for trial next week. He entered the not guilty plea after the presiding judge overruled a motion to dismiss charges.

A total of 22 persons will appear on 26 different charges in Fourth District Court next week in jury trials before Judge Barham. Charges will range from armed robbery and manslaughter to theft and aggravated battery.

Scheduled for trial during next week are the following:

Monday: Dollie Mae Williams, Holly Ridge, manslaughter in connection with a case in October of 1964.

Maurice J. Laird, North 4th St., Monroe, two counts of forgery and three theft instances.

Willis Banks, Winnsboro, armed robbery.

Jerald Steven Smith, Fort Worth, Texas, unlawful possession of a machine gun.

James Roy Smith Sr., 1511 Joe Bill St., West Monroe, incest.

Lamar T. Hill, 607 Arkansas Ave., Monroe, and Robert Earl Smith, 103 Jerry St., West Monroe simple burglary. Robert Earl Smith, alias Bobby Smith, will also appear on charges of being accessory after the fact.

Perry S. Pilgreen, 712 S. Trenton, Ruston, issuing a worthless check and two counts of theft.

Robert Ralph Allen, 1507 South 12th St., Monroe, negligent homicide.

P. A. Stockstill, 502 Bres Ave., Monroe; George Bostic, 408 Travis St., West Monroe; and O. D. Hollis, 101 Fern St., West Monroe, charged jointly with theft of $63.75.

Tuesday: Dock Porter, 810 South 16th St., Monroe, simple burglary.

Elroy Smith, 305 Forest Lawn, Monroe, carnal knowledge of a junvenile.

Wednesday: Jimmie Neal Barrett, Calhoun, aggravated battery.

Heabert Lambert; 707 DeLoach, Monroe, negligent homicide.

Magnolia Hicks, 732 Coleman, West Monroe, negligent homicide.

Thursday: Malcolm James, 237 Bawcom St., West Monroe, forgery.

John Lawrence Bullock, 602 South 26th, Monroe, and Herbert Wadley, Apt. 115 Foster Homes, Monroe, jointly charged with simple burglary.

David Wayne Smith, 106 Jerry St., West Monroe, simple burglary.

Friday: Woodrow Wilson, 2717 Tanner St., Monroe, forgery.

SLEEP GIMMICKS

CHICAGO (UPI) — There seems to be no end of gimmicks to help people fall asleep, a survey by the Sleep Institute of the Spring Air Mattress Co., Chicago, shows.

For noise, there are ear plugs, acoustical ear muffs and even an electrical device that emits a steady hum to drown out the other sounds. For snoring, there's an elastic band the snorer can wear to keep his or her mouth shut. There's also a snore ball worn on the back of the pajamas to discourage sleeping on the back, believed to be one cause of snoring.

James Galanos Designs Favor Floral Motifs

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor

NEW YORK (UPI) — The flowers that bloom in the spring, tra la, breathe promise throughout the new collection of the California designer, James Galanos.

Galanos has carried the floral motif so far that even Gilbert and Sullivan might be tempted to celebrate further with song. For instance: Spring's tulips are printed on luxurious silks; tulips, the real ones, are tucked into necklines fore and aft or shoved casually under wide, chiffon sashes; and, everywhere, there are floral prints, used in afternoon dresses and on into evening's floor length formals. Galanos is so print-conscious that the numerous chiffons in his dressy clothes include jungle florals and such as tiger, leopard and snakeskin replicas on the most floating of chiffons.

The Californian who sets a pace of style followed by a whole international set and copied right down to $8.95, showed his spring collection to buyers and reporters. Galanos traditionally brings his collection to New York for the grand opening — champagne at intermission, and what theater matches that!

In addition to the jungle print motif, there should be mentioned a group of Galanos floor length dinner dresses that are naturals for immediate copy—in less expensive fabrics. These are wide-spaced, long-stemmed flowers uncluttered by a bunch of leaves imprinted on a white background of textured silk. The silhouette: Long - sleeved, high-necked, and clinging to the figure from neckline to the floor. Not a single belt interrupted the long, slithery line.

MR. AND MRS. E. A. WILLIAMSON

Williamsons Celebrate Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Williamson celebrated their golden wedding anniversary Sunday, February 21, with open house in their home in Winnsboro.

Mr. and Mrs. Williamson were married at Prentiss, Mississippi, February 21, 1915, and moved to Franklin parish one year later.

Children of the couple are Joe Williamson, who is with the U. S. Navy; Earl Williamson, Ruston; Wallace, Dean and Bobby Williamson, Winnsboro; Mrs. Mary Ridle, Tacoma, Washington; Mrs. Maxine McLendon, San Antonio, Texas; Mrs. Marie Robinson, Beaver, Pennsylvania; Mrs. Vera Westerburg, Mrs. Ann Wallace and Miss Faye Williamson, Winnsboro.

Vows Will Be Read In Larto

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin H. Campbell of Tallulah, former residents of Sicily Island, announce approaching marriage of their daughter, Ramona Jean, to Wayne Dale Sanders, son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Sanders of Larto.

The wedding will be an event of Saturday, March 6, at 7 p.m. at the Larto Baptist Church with the Rev. Wallace Lee of Wildsville officiating at the double ring ceremony.

A reception will follow in the home of Mrs. W. J. Guice.

DESIGNED FOR DRESSES

Stripes, checks, polka dots and floral prints are joined by geometric designs in spring's dress fabrics.

Recipe For Washing Stains From T-Shirts

By HELOISE CRUSE

Dear Heloise:

In answer to the woman who has so many sons, and loads of stained-shirts to wash:

The best way I have found, without too much time and fuss or scrubbing, is to try washing them twice. The first time wash them in HOT water with lots of liquid bleach (according to directions) and a good detergent. Then wash them in hot water and detergent without bleach.

After this procedure is used for a few weeks she should start seeing the difference in the T-shirts. If they are badly stained, it may take longer, but I doubt it.

I hope you print this in the paper because women who have washed for years have asked me how I keep my clothes and T-shirts so white. I think it is also a good hint for brides just starting families, for this step of washing can apply to any clothes that should be white.

Regular

LETTER OF LAUGHTER

Dear Heloise:

Don't keep your husband in hot water all of the time because this will not make him tender . . .

Mrs. L.

Dear Heloise:

When washing draperies that have drapery hooks, do you hate to put the grimy pins back on the nice clean drapes, and find that they stick and are very hard to get back in?

When you wash the woodwork around the windows and have your pail of hot or warm water with a good cleaner in it, take the pins and drop them in the water.

By the time the woodwork is done, take them out and just let them dry on a newspaper.

When the drapes are dry and ready to hang up, the pins will be sparkling clean and dry, and they will slip very easily back into the drapes.

Why? You have removed all the grime from them while they soaked in the suds. . .

Irene Fialko

Dear Heloise:

For rings on glasses, I mix up a good warm solution of water and a detergent, place my glasses under this solution and leave them over night.

Next morning I just rinse them. The rings and film are gone completely.

Annie Olsen

Dear Heloise:

I tape a couple of cigarette filter tips to the top of my sewing machine (near the wheel). It's a wonderful place to stick those pins and basting needles! You can also put them on the inside of your sewing basket. The needles and pins stick in them beautifully.

DEAR ABBY

Her Christmas Lights Still Blink In March

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: There is this old lady in our neighborhood who lives alone. Every year she goes all out with Christmas decorations. She has a big wreath in every window, and in the big picture window she has a huge Christmas tree with little tiny red and green lights that blink off and on. Then, on her porch, she has a life-sized Santa Claus. It looks real nice around Christmas, but here it is almost March and she hasn't taken it down yet. Is there some way we can tell her? We thought of writing an anonymous letter to her, but our mothers said absolutely not. How can two 12-year-old boys tell a grown lady to take in her Christmas decorations because people laugh when they go by?

M. AND J.

DEAR M. AND J.: Perhaps the lady is not well. Or maybe she has no one to help her take down the decorations. Why don't you call on her and offer to do the job? If you are Boy Scouts, it could be your good deed for the day. If you aren't Boy Scouts, be goodscouts and offer anyway.

DEAR ABBY: What is your opinion of a doctor who says to a husband, who came to him seeking advice on how to get along with a wife while she is going through her menopause, "Why do you think I am on my third wife? There is absolutely nothing you can do, so you might as well forget it." Don't you think that husband should find himself another doctor?

WAITING FOR YOUR REPLY

DEAR WAITING: Yes. And if he finds one with two couches, he should invite that doctor to be his guest.

DEAR ABBY: Mine is a question rather than a problem. It arose from the following situation: Recently a friend of ours passed away. My wife and I, who are Roman Catholics, went to the funeral parlor to pay our respects. My wife knelt in front of the casket and said a prayer. I maintain that, because the deceased was Protestant, my wife should not have knelt. We've asked several people their opinions, and you would be surprised at some of the answers we've heard from both Catholics and Protestants. Last year, when I attended a Bar Mitzvah, I wore a cap and prayer shawl. I would certainly not have prayed in a Catholic manner while attending a Jewish service. What is your opinion?

N. J. F. IN CLEVELAND

DEAR N. J. F.: I believe that one should be able to pray in his own way with impunity, whether sitting, standing, kneeling, facing East, with head covered or left bare. If, however, one goes to a house of worship other than that of his own faith, if he is required to don special attire or conform to special rites or customs, he will be advised when he enters. More important than the manner in which one speaks to God is his sincerity in speaking.

Restauranteur Explains Why Menus Change

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

If restaurant menus look different, it's because people have changed their eating habits, says Jan Mitchell whose 10 New York City restaurants serve 10,000 people a day.

Some people have become cholesterol and calorie conscious, eating less butter, gravy and heavy desserts.

Other people have become more sophisticated with the expanding culture of the United States. Travel has educated their taste buds.

Part of Mitchell's 17-hour workday is spent observing the changing tastes of his varied clientele, and figuring what makes his restaurants bought five years ago tick.

"Years ago you couldn't have put coq au vin (chicken in wine) on the menu. It would hve been risky. But now in areas where broiled chicken wa sa best seller, coq au vin has taken over," he says.

Diners are more discriminating, but tastes of people are regional, even in a city.

In the theatrical district, they want anything that may be prepared and eaten quickly; ditto for the financial area, Wall Street. The uptown residential crowd who have more time to dine demand something that's a gustatorial delight. But practically all restaurants report a "please no gravy routine."

SPICE CONSCIOUS

Sometimes gravy is requested "on the side", Mitchell says, and the good intentions are likely to dissolve as the meal progresses. But much less of it is served, in any event.

"Travelers have become so spice conscious, I even add a pinch of oregano to steak," he points out. "Americans are great beef eaters, and sometimes they choose high-caloried sauces to go with it because in Europe it didn't make them fat. But there they could walk it off on their tours," he says.

For them, Mitchell prepares Bordelaise sauce with spices, and beef stroganoff. His dash of rosemary enchances the flavor of sour cream, he says.

The easiest-to-feed group in his restaurant chain is the Madison Avenue set, where the emphasis is on drinking lunch.

"Just give the advertising crowd an item for $1.65 and they're happy," he says. "We have the lowest sales of food there. What they'd really like after four drinks at lunch is a $1.50 sandwich."

DRINKING MORE

People are drinking more at all his restaurants, he comments. More mixed drinks, wine and cordials are being served. He thinks cordials are taken in place of desserts.

Mitchell spotchecks his restaurants, breezing through several every day tasting everything from mashed potatoes to fruit compote.

"Fish, particularly swordfish and lobster has become very popular, probably because of the low calories. One doesn't feature fish only once a week any more."

American diners have matured, he explains.

"Time was when a picky eater would say 'what's happened. I used to get this such and such a way. But now they anticipate their meals as a new taste treat and don't expect a ragout to taste just like one the'd had before."

Fruit is replacing calorie-laden desserts for many people. Baked apple, California peach, melon or an open apricot cake are more in demand.

So many people ask for recipes that Swedish born Mitchell who was trained in European hotels in author of a new book "Cooking a La Longchamps — Good Food-No Nonsense," with a preface by Cleveland Amory.

Surprise Party Honors Terry Boyd, Rocky Smith

Terry Marie Boyd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Boyd, and Rocky Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rollis Smith, 2402 Emerson, were surprised honorees at a party in the Boyd home on Ray Drive. The party was a celebration of their fourteenth birthdays, given on Saturday, February 20 by Mr. and Mrs. Boyd.

A red and white lion cub was used for a centerpiece and red punch was served, carrying out the Ouachita High school colors.

Focal point of the decorations was a Cub banner in school colors made by the high school art class.

Invited guests were Billy Hemp, Carol Jameison, Gary Terry Dowd, James Myers, Sherry Sherman, Tommy Crumpton, Debbie Van, Buddy Green, Beverly Henson, Al Robinson, Debbie Green, Dan McNair, Kathy Roberson, Bobby Baker, Karen Lee, Ricky Jo Smith, Lacinia Ladart, Gary Travis, Dianne Free, Bobby Roberson, Mary Jo Cannon, Tinker Tidwell, Phyllis Stevenson, Glen Carver, Rita Warner, Cliff Tidwell, Debbie Green, Freda Anders, Judy Zametto, little daughter of Coach and Mrs. N. F. Zametto.

When it's 6 a.m. in Monroe, what time would it be in Nigeria, West Africa?

There is a seven-hour time difference — thus it would be 1 p.m. in Nigeria.

• • •

On what day of the week did Sept. 12, 1930, fall?

Sept. 12, 1930 was on Friday.,

• • •

Is there any way a person can make a profit from deciphering code games such as the cryptogram carried in the Morning World?

The only way we can imagine would be to devise your own game and sell it to one of the feature syndicates such as the one that distributes the cryptogram.

I have a sizeable number of Series E. U. S. savings bonds of the $100 denomination which I've accumulated over the years through the payroll savings plan. If an emergency arises and I have to cash some of these bonds when is the best time to do so to realize their highest dollar return?

Your highest return would be obtained if the bonds are cashed on the date on which redemption values increase. Your bank bond teller can tell you which date that is, so don't fail to ask. By way of example though, let's say you need some extra money, the date is Feb. 12, 1965, and the bond is question is dated September, 1956. If you cashed the bond on the 12th, your value would be $95.26. If you could hold off cashing the bond until March 1, the date of higher redemption value, your return would be $97.24.

• • •

Could you give the address of the English recording group, The Kinks?

If you keep someone in your home to care for daily who draws Social Security, can you draw any pay for keeping him?

No, you cannot.

• • •

What color uniforms are certified nurses' aides supposed to wear?

The uniforms vary from hospital to hospital, according to local authorities, and is decided upon by the hospital officials. Both St. Francis and Glenwood Hospital are presently using white uniforms for nurses' aides, but Glenwood is considering a change.

• • •

If a person has already filed and mailed a short U. S. income tax form, and later finds out he could have used a 1040-A long form and paid less money in taxes, can he refile his tax payment?

Yes, he can, according to a local Internal Revenue Service spokesman. He should go ahead and refile the long form, but be sure to mark it "amended." This will inform the agency in New Orleans that one form has already been filed.

• • •

If the medicare bill is passed, will the medical expenses of widows and children drawing Social Security be taken care of? Is there a chance of the Social Security bill being changed. to cover widows who cannot find work or are unable to work until they are 62?

Local Social Security officials answer that the present proposal will only provide hospital costs of wage earners over 65. As for the second part of the question, there is nothing in the present proposal covering anyone in this situation. For further information, contact the local Social Security office.

• • •

Has there been any change in the Social Security disability benefits in the past two years? I paid Social Security for many years but went into business for myself in 1959 and failed to pay self - employment. In 1963, I had a very serious heart attack and my doctors won't let me work. I only had half enough quarters to get Social Security disability.

No changes have been made in Social Security disability during the past two years that would affect this case, local officials said. A person, in order to receive disability, has to work at least five of the past 10 years under Social Security. Since you did not pay any Social Security while you were self - employed, your case would probably come under this ruling. However, the local Social Security will check your records and supply you with any other information you might desire.

• • •

Could you tell me why the Open Door Home for Destitute Children does not print a complete financial statement in their newsletter that is mailed out periodically to organizations and individuals? Are their books audited?

The Rev. Wayne Gentry, president of the Open Door Home, Inc., answered that the organization sends out financial statements to persons who contribute. These statements are sent out monthly, but not to everyone each month. For instance, if you gave a dollar in January a financial statement for the month of January, showing how your money was spent, would be sent to you. If you do not contribute again until July, you would not receive another financial statement until that time.

Yes, the books of the Open Door Home are audited.

Rev. Gentry invited anyone seeking any additional information about the Open Door Home to contact him at 323-2044.

• • •

How many registered nurses are there in Ouachita Parish?

The Louisiana State Nurses' Association lists a total of 279 registered nurses in the parish as of 1960. Miss Christine Causey, executive secretary of that organization, listed the breakdown of that number, as to the work in which they were engaged, as follows: hospitals and other institutions, 129; schools of nursing, five; private duty, 64; public health, 10; office 23; and, other, 48.

• • •

Why is the speed limit, 30 miles per hour, enforced at night after school has been dismissed in front of the college? A person was given a ticket at midnight for making 45 miles per hour en route home from a Shreveport hospital. Are the Monroe police required to issue a certain number of tickets during a given period?

Monroe Police Chief James C. Kelly Jr. issued the following reply in answer:

"The officers of the Monroe police department are charged with the responsibility of enforcing all traffic ordinances, and certainly speeding ordinances, at any time. However, in all probability, the speed was more than 45 miles per hour, as all police officers are instructed when issuing summons for speeding to deduct from 5 to 10 miles per hour (depending on the circumstances) from the actual clocking speed. This is done to compensate for any possible human error and to be absolutely sure of fairness in the charge.

"No officer is required to issue a certain number of tickets, although each has taken an oath to perform his duty whenever a violation arises, regardless of the hour."

• • •

When the Columbia lock and dam is completed and the nine - foot channel is done, how will it affect the level of the Ouachita River at Monroe?

The pool elevation of the Ouachita River at Monroe when the channel deepening is completed will be 36-52 feet, according to John W. Anderson, chief of the Technical Liaison office of the Vicksburg District, U. S. Corps of Engineers.

Student In Area Elected Library State Reporter

STERLINGTON (Special) — Mike Powell, a student at Sterlington High School, has been elected state reporter for the Louisiana Teenage Library Association.

He was selected by delegates at the recent conference of the association in Baton Rouge.

Mrs. J. B. Milstead, librarian at Sterlington High, and four delegates attended the conference. Students participating in the event were Powell, Glenda Canterberry, Cindy Redden and Ronald Spence.

About 320 persons from 100 schools were registered at the meeting, which was highlighted by the political rally and election.

BY 'SUBVERSIVES'

Who Should Ban College Talks?

CONCORD, N.H. (AP) — Should speakers linked with subversive organizations be barred from speaking on state campuses? And, if so, should the legislature impose the ban, over the heads of university trustees?

The two questions have commanded major attention in New Hampshire for the past year.

The issue has shattered party lines and split Gov. John W. King and his chief legal adviser.

Fifty-three speakers appeared before the legislative Committees on Education this week at a joint hearing on a bill to impose such a ban. The measure was filed by Republican Rep. Saul Feldman of Manchester and endorsed in principle by the Democratic governor. The hearing stretched over two days.

Spokesmen for the trustees, administration, faculty, students and alumni of the University of New Hampshire called for rejection of the proposal.

They were joined by the presidents of the state's two largest private colleges, two former governors — one of them former presidential assistant Sherman Adams, two prominent judges and leaders of the Republican majority in the House.

Also opposing the bill were Mildred McAfee Horton, a former commander of the Waves, and top officials of five major Protestant denominations in the state.

Groups At Olla Plan To Write Town Booklet

OLLA (Special) — Civic and municipal groups of Olla plan to write a comprehensive and factual booklet spelling out the facilities available in this town.

A committee of representatives from the local Home Demonstration club, garden club, Masonic order, Eastern Star, the Olla Development Corporation and the Town Council will meet Monday night in the library to map plans for gathering the data.

Mayor W. H. (Doc) Holloman is spearheading the effort and organized the meeting last week when he addressed members of these various groups at the weekly meeting of the Olla Kiwanis club.

Holloman cited the town's growth and pointed out that families were moving in "faster than contractors can build houses." He cited good water and sewer service, good rail and highway transportation as factors affecting this growth.

"The time has come for the people of Olla to organize and work together to improve our town and attract additional industry," he pointed out.

35-HOUR WEEK

Labor Plans Drive For $2 Base Wage

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Politically powerful AFL-CIO leaders announced plans Friday to step up pressure on the White House to seek a $2 minimum wage and a 35-hour federal standard work week.

AFL-CIO President George Meany said it doesn't make sense" for President Johnson to propose a war on poverty without these measures.

"We're going to try to convince the President," Meany said in announcing that he and other top labor leaders will call on Johnson as soon as possible.

Johnson has opposed raising the $1.25 minimum wage and cutting the present 40-hour work week, but labor leaders here seem to think the administration may be ready to change its mind.

Meany said chances are very much better now to get this legislation through Congress with administration backing.

The AFL-CIO has been exerting considerable pressure on Congress and the White House to raise the minimum wage, cut the work week and boost overtime pay from time and a half to double time.

"We're going to talk to the President about all these things," Meany said.

In other action, the AFL-CIO Executive Council hailed an agreement between two of the federation's major departments to support each other in strikes.

The agreement was signed Friday by Walter Reuther, president of the Industrial Union Department, and C. J. Hagerty, president of the Building and Construction Trades Department.

Unions in the two departments frequently work in the same field but previously had been unable to agree on mutual support.

Police Charge Young Monroe Man With Theft

Howard Edward Blakley, 19, of 2308 South Grand St., Monroe, has been charged with felony theft by Monroe police in connection with a missing credit card.

Blakley was first apprehended by the Ouachita Parish Sheriff Department in Sterlington and turned over to West Monroe police, where he had been booked for theft prior to the felony count in Monroe.

Police officers estimated that between $600 and $700 worth of merchandise had been purchased with the card. Investigation into the matter is continuing, they said.

Booked by Monroe police on charges of driving while under the influences of intoxicating beverages was J. N. Foster, 39, of 1102 North 3rd St., West Monroe.

Six persons were transported to the state penitentiary at Angola Friday by the Ouachita Parish Sheriff's Department. Three, of Monroe, will begin terms of five years: Howard Lee Higginbotham, 24, for burglary; George Parrott, burglary; and Allen Ross, forgery.

To begin three-year sentences are Lee Ray Gay, 22, James Terry Cooks, 19, and Sammie Lee Hayes, 20, all of Monroe and all charged with burglary.

Monroe police Friday reported the arrest of a Monroe man on three separate counts, including vagrancy, carrying a dangerous weapon, and disturbing the peace. Bond was set at $500.

Officers are investigating the burglary of the Calvary Baptist Church, 812 Miss. St., Monroe, in which about 50 pennies and a quarter were reported taken. Police said burglar or burglars sometime Wednesday night pried open the north window of the church with a long piece of metal, possibly a screwdriver, and entered a classroom. The desk drawers were pulled out and paper was scattered around the room. Police said a burnt piece of paper which was found on the floor of the room was obviuosly used as a torch so the burglar or burglars could see. The party left through the west kitchen door of the church.

A green metal box filled with mechanic's tools valued at $45 was reported stolen from Friendly Motors, 311 North 4th St., at 8:25 Friday morning, according to Monroe police. The theft was discovered by an employe, Willie McDonald Jr. Officers are investigating.

Bonds totaling $850 were set for a local man late Friday after he was apprehended by Monroe police and charged on two different counts. Robert Hamilton, 58, of 311 North 25th St., Monroe, was charged with driving while under the influences of intoxicating beverages, $500 bond, and reckless driving, 350 bond.

Charles E. Hamilton, 20, of 3308 Church St., Monroe, was booked on theft charges and placed under $350 bond by police Friday night.

James Paul Drummond, 38, of Meridian, Miss., was booked for theft and disturbing the peace. No bond was set in the case.

Monroe police late Friday apprehended James W. Bray, 30, of 1739 Spencer St., and turned him over to West Monroe police. He was booked on charges of issuing a bad check.

A case of malicious mischief is currently being investigated by Monroe police, in which a number of youths have been observed throwing rocks and bottles at railroad trains. Police said Friday that the youths hit the last car of a Missouri-Pacific train near 18th Street and broke several windows. The same thing has happened in the past, officers said, and a strict investigation is underway to prevent a recurrence and to apprehend the youths involved.

Church In Area To Hear Guest Speaker Sunday

JONESVILLE (Special) — The Rev. Benson Cain, a teacher of Greek and New Testament to Japanese seminary students in Kobe, Japan, will be the speaker at the Trinity Presbyterian church Jonesville, at 11 a.m. services Sunday.

Rev. Cain, is now on furlough in the United States.

He has been in Kobe, Japan, since 1961, and as a missionary to Japan since 1953 in rural areas. At the request of the Reformed Church in Japan, he moved to Kobe, a city of more than one million residents, to become a faculty member of the Kobe Reformed Seminary, the denomination's only ministerial training school.

An Alabaman, Rev. Cain was born in Birmingham but considers Montgomery his home town. He holds membership in East Alabama Presbytery and has served as pastor of Milbrook Presbyterian Church, Milbrook, Ala.

He is a veteran of World War II, having served in the United States Navy during 1944-1946.

CUTS PRICE

LONDON (UPI)—The British Aircraft Corp., has cut the price of seven Super VC-10 jet airliners by more than $5.6 million in an attempt to beat the American Boeing company to a major order, the Daily Sun reported Friday.

OPENS ON MARCH 15

Parish Cleanup Drive Scheduled

By RICHARD TYLER
World Staff Writer

A special citizens committee, appointed by the police jury to combat litter, met Friday night, christened itself the Ouachita Parish Beautification Board, and set an "Operation Cleanup" for March 15-May 31.

Chairman Curtis Joiner, ward three juror, expressed satisfaction at Friday's enthusiasm and called for an "all-out fight" to clean up public property and areas along parish roadways. A kick-off banquet will launch the drive March 15 at a place and hour to be announced.

Theme of the campaign, which will include efforts through virtually every means of communication, will be "The Citizen's Responsibility."

"We hope that our efforts in public areas will encourage other individuals and groups and make the entire community more conscious of the damage of thoughtless littering," Joiner pointed out.

Twenty-one of the group's 50 tentative members (five from each of the parish's 10 wards) were present for Friday's official organizational session, held at 7 p.m. in the courthouse. Twelve police jurors and several other officials also attended.

"All were enthusiastic in the conviction that something could and should be done about the litter problem," the chairman said.

Joiner noted expressions of support from Ouachita Parish Sheriff Bailey Grant, Dr. Carroll Summer of the parish Health Unit, E. D. Elmore, Cheniere Lake Commission chairman, Engineer Herbert Collier of the parish Highway Department, A. A. Braddock, Fifth District engineer with the Louisiana Highway Department, Capt. M. E. Kidd of the State Police, Troop F. and President T. W. Humphries of the Police Jury.

Besides naming itself, the committee took several other firm actions Friday.

Mrs. Mary Jo Inzina, was named to chair publicity for the drive, which may be extended later to run nearly the year-around, and ward committees were directed to undertake immediate inspections of their areas. Results of the inspections will be compared with checks after the drive to assess effects of the campaign, Joiner said.

Braddock promised the group figures for promotional uses showing present costs to taxpayers of existing official clean-up operations. "With them, we'll be able to tell people how much could be saved by preventing this littering before it occurs through community awareness and action," Joiner said.

Parish cleanup reached the planning stage about three years ago, but was never fully developed, he noted.

Jurors present Friday, besides those mentioned, included John Wilhite, M. W. Montgomery, C. W. Whetstone, Leslie Hamm, J. H. Brown, W. O. Roberts, L. W. Coon, Jesse Wilson, A. E. Montgomery Jr. and John Ensminger.

Board members attending were: Mrs. Bryant V. King and Mrs. W. L. Huckabay, ward three; Mrs. A. E. Redden Sr., Mrs. Ruth Pylant and Mrs. Adell Clark, ward five; W. H. Ray and Jerry Lowery, ward six; Mrs. Samuel G. Crowell, Mrs. A. B. Chambless, Mrs. C. R. Wilder and Mrs. Johnnie F. Russell, ward seven; Courtney Caples, Jimmy Dennig and W. A. Ford, ward eight; Walter J. Pierron Jr. and Harry B. Graham, ward 10; and Mrs. W. O. Roberts, wife of the juror. Mrs. Inzina is a ward 10 member.

Salvation Army Needs Clothing To Help Needy

The Salvation Army of Monroe needs good, used clothing and furniture to help the needy, Capt. Ronald C. Greene, commanding officer, said Friday.

Because of the large number of fires in and around Monroe recently, Capt. Greene said that the Salvation Army's reserve of clothing is exhausted.

"This week alone two families have lost their homes, furnishings and clothing because of fire," the commander explained.

He asked that anyone having usable clothing and furniture which they would like to donate to call FA 5-1755. At the time of the donations, the driver will give the donor a letter which can be used as an income tax receipt.

A case history is done on each family who is in need, Capt. Greene said. After the completion of the history, the family is sent to the Salvage Building on Ouachita Avenue where they may pick out the things they need.

Capt. Greene reports that during the months of January and February 1,776 pieces of clothing and 115 pairs of shoes were donated to needy families.

"Four families in our area which were burned-out were assisted," Greene said.

Ward Chairmen For Fund Drive Are Announced

JONESVILLE (Special) — Ward chairmen for the annual Red Cross Fund drive were named this week by Mrs. Mary Jackson, Catahoula parish fund chairman.

Those named were Mrs. Allie F. Prunty, Ward 1; the members of the Sicily Island Woman's club for Ward 2; Mrs. Mae Cruse, Ward 3; Mrs. Billy Wright, Ward 4; Mrs. Iola Hendricks, Ward 5; Mrs. Lois Adams, ward 6; and Mrs. W. J. Guice, Mrs. Johnnie Fairbanks and Mrs. Ernestine Mount, all Ward 7.

Working with the Negro people and Negro schools will be Prof. E. H. Johnson of Jonesville and Prof. Dave Tolliver of Sicily Island.

"We are happy to have these fine workers give their cooperation in taking over the duties as Ward chairmen," Mrs. Jackson said. "With their help in their respective ward, the job will be a lot easier for us all."

"Our goal has been obtained in the past, and I am sure that Catahoula parish will again meet the quota.

Monroe Branch Post Office To Open Monday

A new branch of the Monroe Post Office will open Monday at Lakeshore Pharmacy, according to Woodrow W. Hathorn, postmaster.

The branch will be known as Contract Branch No. 1. The pharmacy is located on the corner of DeSiard Road and Beasley Street, Monroe.

Hathorn explained that the branch was being opened "to benefit the patrons in this section of the city."

The postmaster said that patrons would be able to buy stamps, money orders and mail packages and letters. However, he reported that no mail will be delivered to patrons at this unit.

There will be no post office boxes or general delivery service, Hathorn said.

Walter J. Pierron Jr. of Monroe will be contractor for the new branch.

Otto Passman Gives Views On Redistricting

Congressman Otto E. Passman said Friday he realized "it is necessary to re-align some of the congressional districts."

He said he wouldn't object to enlarging the Fifth District by including a neighboring parish, but would oppose the loss of any of his present parishes.

Passman will attend a legislative hearing March 8 at Baton Rouge where congressional redistricting will discussed.

The House judiciary committee approved a bill in Washington Thursday that would require the Louisiana Legislature to change the size of four congressional districts before next year's election.

Congressman Passman indicated an agreement would probably be reached at the meeting March 8.

Legislation in Washington calls for enlarging the Fifth District by about 1,000 persons and the neighboring Eighth District by about 72,000 persons.

The Sixth District, represented by Congressman James H. Morrison, would be reduced by 78,129 persons and the Second District, represented by Hale Boggs, would be cut by 31,500 persons.

There is a possibility that the change would shift LaSalle Parish from the Eighth to the Fifth, which would create a problem since Congressman Speedy O. Long, representing the Eighth District, is from LaSalle.

If the legislative committee reaches a solution March 8, it would be presented to the Legislature for approval possibly in the May fiscal session.

Y-Teens Meet To Open Today At Hotel Here

Y-Teens from Ouachita Parish, Neville, Sterlington and West Monroe High Schools made final plans Friday at the Frances Hotel for a conference and ball set for today and Sunday.

The program includes a charm clinic, college discussion for seniors and a special panel discussion. A worksip is planned for this morning where the girls will learn how to run a club and be better members.

Several well-known Monroe citizens are slated to speak at the event.

The weekend will be climaxed by a Mardi Gras Ball set for tonight on the roof of the Frances Hotel.

Members of the court include Pat Pounders, Peggy Gates, Ann Avery, Nancy Pfrimmer, Dot Young, Shirley Odom, Pam Clark and Belinda Mathis. Mayor W. L. Howard of Monroe will crown the queen who will be announced at the ball.

Interclub council officers presiding over the events this weekend are Mary Sue Powers, executive Pam Clark, program director; Jenny Perry, assistant program director; Pat Pounders, recorder; Penny Moore, business manager; Peggy Gates, assistant business manager; Ashley Benton, hostess; and Bonnie Graham, publicity director.

Livestock Show Is Slated Today In Union Parish

FARMERVILLE (Special) — The annual Union Parish Junior Livestock Show and Judging Clinic will be held today at the Union Parish fairgrounds.

The morning program will begin at 9 with instructions on livestock selection to be given 4-H'ers by Dr. Glen Clark, head of the animal industry department at Louisiana Tech.

Following this, club members will compete against each other for individual and team awards. Also, in conjunction with the show, the annual achievement day meat identification contest will be held.

The afternoon program will consist of showmanship, with the following club members exhibiting livestock: Ann Allen and Johnny McFarland of Downsville; Roger Crow and Richard Long of Farmerville; Robert Mitcham, Bill Mitcham and Marsha Henderix of Bernice; C. W. Haile of Marion, Butch Taylor, Donnie Wade and Percy Wade Jr. of Spearsville; Margeann Laurence of Bernice; Suzette Taylor of Downsville; Robert Wilson and Nancy Wilson of Linville; Richie Albritton, Lynette Allen and Jenny Wainwright of Downsville; Clark Dean, Keith Dean, Terry Dumas, Judy Dumas, Dennis Dumas, Bobby Gimber, Ricky Silmon, and Raney Silmon of Farmerville; and Kathy Dumas of Rocky Branch.

Highway Scuffle Ends With Death Of Area Negro

FARMERVILLE (Special) — Union Parish authorities Friday said a Negro man was shot to death Thursday about 7 p.m. following a scuffle two miles north of Marion on the Oakland Highway.

Deputy Sheriff Glenn Barron identified the dead man as Hezekiah Nelson, 42, of Marion.

Officials said that Howard driving a car toward them, Horn, a Marion businessman, and Mrs. Horn were driving toward Oakland when Nelson, blocked the highway so that the Horn vehicle could not pass and was forced to the shoulder of the highway, at which time Horn got out of his car.

Barron said Nelson drove on about 50 feet past the Horns before backing up and getting out of the car with a .22 caliber automatic rifle, which he used to hit Horn in the stomach.

The deputy said the rifle went off two or three times during the struggle, sending bullets into the Horn car. He said Horn had a pistol in his car which was handed him by his wife, and the fatal shot followed.

Barron said Horn remained with the body while his wife went to a nearby house and phoned authorities. Investigating officers said Nelson was intoxicated at the time of the struggle.

The Union Parish Sheriff's office said Horn will go before the parish grand jury, though no charges have been filed.

Deputy Barron said Horn had known Nelson for a number of years.

Budget Planners Enter 5th Week

BATON ROUGE (AP) — The Legislative Budget Committee returns Monday to begin its fifth week of considering spending requests for next fiscal year.

The committee is working on an estimated $1 billion budget to be presented to the May legislature to cover the state operations during the fiscal year starting July 1.

FOR LATIN AMERICA

Grant Will Finance Birth Control Study

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government announced Friday night a grant of $400,000 to establish a Latin-American research center to study the problem of population growth.

One official said about $1 million a year of aid funds will go into such studies in various parts of the world.

While seeking to avoid entanglement in birth control controversies, the United States quietly has offered to help finance research in countries asking help. Officials emphasize the United States is not trying to push countries into adopting birth control plans, but is cooperating where governments or responsible private agencies seek help in research.

A press release by the Alliance for Progress said the grant will go to a private, nonprofit foundation in Chile known as the Center for Economic and Social Development of Latin America. The research institute is to be established in Santiago, where the center has been studying the problem for several years.

"The center plans to carry out research, utilizing scholars and experts in sociology, psychology and anthropology, in studies of family size and population growth in Latin America," the announcement said. "The results of this research will be available to all countries in the hemisphere." The grant will help support operations for two years.

Thomas C. Mann, assistant secretary of state for inter-American affairs, and head of the U.S. Alliance for Progress agency, said in a speech to a private organization known as Planned Parenthood in New York last November that population growth in Latin America is outstripping economic progress.

Officials said State Department and foreign aid officials have been moving quietly since early in President John F. Kennedy's administration to bring the population problem out into the open for study.

In his State of the Union message last January, President Johnson underscored the problem, saying "I will seek new ways to use our knowledge to help deal with the explosion in world population and the growing scarcity in world resources."

Farmerville High School Favorites Are Announced

FARMERVILLE (Special) — In the recent elections of "Personality Favorites" 15 seniors were chosen by the student body of the Farmerville High School by secret ballot to be featured in this year's annual, "The Pine Knot."

Those elected were: Most Attractive Girl; La Jo Hayes; Most Handsome boy, Joe Albritton; Most Popular Girl and Boy, Rosalind Armstrong and Johnny Long; Mr. and Mrs. Senior: Billy Anderson and Regina Dean; Most Athletic Girl and Boy: Regina Phelps, a junior and Ronnie E. Nolan, Senior; Cutest Girl and Boy, Linda Nolan an dGary Lynn Albritton; Friendliest Girl and Boy: Donna Albritton and Jimmy Heard Odom; Most Courteous Girl and Boy: Sharon Brantley and Ray Masling; Most Dependable Girl and Boy: Ora Merle Hallman and David Preaus.

Favorites from the eleventh through the seventh grades were chosen. They are Judy Williams and John Steven Preaus, eleventh grade; Sharon Pardue and John Austin, tenth grade; Jody Odom and Victor White, ninth grade; Becky Read and Max Smith, eighth grade; Kathy Nolan and Mike Gilmore, seventh grade.

Farmerville seniors also were recently given mental ability tests by guidance counselor, Rabun Nolan. The purpose of the tests was to give the students an idea of the level to which their minds have developed since junior high school. Some seniors will participate in scholarship examinations. They will take those offered by Northeast State College Monroe, Louisiana Tech, Ruston and Louisiana State University, Baton Rouge.

Council To Open Bids On Bonds, New City Hall

Monroe City Council opens bids next week on $20.4 million in revenue bonds and the new City Hall complex.

The council will meet Monday at 10 a.m. in the office of Mayor W. L. (Jack) Howard to receive bids on $20,430,000 in revenue bonds to be refinanced by the council at the request of the Utilities Commission.

Bids on a new City Hall, jail, police headquarters and city court building will be opened Thursday at 10 a.m. in Howard's office.

If the council gets a satisfactory bid on the civic center, construction could begin this spring.

Treasurer Mel Cook said Friday that six contracting firms have picked up plans for the new City Hall complex and other contractors may have obtained plans from the architect. He indicated that the bidding session should be a good one.

Kern To Attend Health Seminar

A member of the Northeast Louisiana State College School of Pharmacy faculty has been selected to participate in a four-day Conference on Public Health in the Curricula of College of Pharmacy, which is being held in Washington, D.C., Feb. 28-March 3.

Dr. Joseph Kern, who teaches the public health course in the School of Pharmacy here, will attend the seminar conducted by the American Association of Colleges of Pharmacy and sponsored by the U.S. Public Health Service.

A number of nationally prominent persons, including the U.S. Surgeon General, Dr. Luther L. Terry, will be program participants.

LaSalle Parish Fair Directors To Request Tax

JENA (Special) — The LaSalle parish Fair Association Board of Directors will request a half-mill property tax in LaSalle parish to pay for improvements to the LaSalle Parish fair grounds in Jena and the North Central Louisiana District fair at Olla.

The fair board is expected to present the request to the Police Jury at its next meeting, Tuesday.

Citing the fact that the Jena fair, two rodeos a year, a quarterly feeder pig sale, monthly distribution of surplus commodities, the board said that the support provided by local businessmen cannot meet the increased need.

The facilities are also used by many organizations for meetings, outdoor picnics and other activities.

The Jena facilities, it was noted, have gradually deteriorated and the rodeo arena, exhibit building and stock building all are in need of repair and expansion. The grounds need improving to allow more parking, and additional acreage could be used, it was pointed out.

State law provides that police juries may grant funds for fair upkeep and improvement and the board of directors noted that about $8,000 annually would be derived from the tax.

The board of directors for the North Central fair association in Olla concurred in the request by the Jena group.

PLAQUE FOR JFK

MEXICO CITY (UPI) — A bronze plaque will be unveiled Saturday in the Basilica of Guadalupe in memory of John F. Kennedy, who attended Mass there July 1, 1962.

Church dignitaries and Mexican officials will attend the unveiling of the plaque, inscribed in both English and Spanish.

The basilica is Mexico's national shrine.
